A CORRUPTION FUND.

Chinese Slave-Masters Making War on Honest Officials.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 22d.—[Special.]—Chinese slave-owners, importers and brokers have raised a corruption fund of $3,000 to secure the discharge or resignation of Interpreter J. E. Kipp and Inspector Samuel Ruddell from the customs service. The Celestials look on these two men and Deputy Collector Henry K. Scott as the leaders in the war that is now being waged on their infamous traffic. Last evening Interpreter Kipp was approached by a Celestial, who bluntly made an offer of $3,000 to him to resign. The offer was made in the Chinese language. Kipp did not wait until the man had finished, but promptly knocked him down as soon as the nature of the proposal was made plain.

Kipp thought that it would avail nothing to make a complaint against the scoundrel, so he took the law into his own hands. He did not know the Chinaman.

CALIFORNIA INTERESTS.

Work Outlined by the California Congressional Delegation.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 22d.—[Special.]—Congressman Merrow, in an interview with a Call reporter to-night, says that no man, single-handed, can accomplish much in Congress. The California delegation will work together the coming session and unite on all matters of importance that bear on the interests of the State. They will seek an appropriation for a military telegraph from Point Reyes to this city; will try to secure a bill for an allowance to vessels of the revenue marine for the assistance of shipwrecked sailors; endeavor to secure a training-ship for naval apprentices, also an appropriation of $175,000 to repair the ship Hartford. They will urge an appropriation for surveying the unsurveyed lands of this State, and will ask Congress to abrogate that portion of the Burlingame treaty which permits the entrance of Chinese into America. In regard to the Presidential campaign he said: "I have always tied my faith to Blaine, and the knot holds as strong as ever."

SAFELY DOCKED.

The French Flagship Successfully Docked at Mare Island.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

VALLEJO, November 22d.—The French flagship Duquesne was safely taken into the stone dock this morning. The vessel drew about twenty-six feet of water, but no difficulty was experienced in docking, there being plenty of depth of water. The docking was under the immediate supervision of Constructor Joseph Feaster, assisted by Captain J. B. Coghlan. The success of the docking was very gratifying to the yard authorities. It is thought it will result in much benefit to the yard. The entire cost of docking will be borne by this Government as an act of courtesy toward a friendly nation. Two workmen were injured during the docking. Bart. Sweeney had his right leg broken above the ankle, and Harry Bruce was severely cut across the right arm. The accident was caused by the breaking of a gypsy-head to a hoisting engine.

COLUSA ENTERPRISE.

Citizens of Maxwell and Williams Organize an Irrigation District.

MAXWELL, November 22d.—To-day there was voted the formation of Irrigation District No. 1, of Colusa county, under the Wright law. The district covers about 160,000 acres of land. Such an exciting time had never before been known in this section. There were 362 votes cast, only fifty-two of which were against. No section can show a greater majority in favor of irrigation. Soon Colusa county will come to the front as the home of thousands of small farmers. Prosperity will reign, and the once great wheat fields will be known no more. The officers elected are: Assessor, J. B. Compton, of Willows; Treasurer, G. B. Harden, of Maxwell; Director of Division Three, J. A. Sutton; of Division Four, Russell Delappe; of Division Five, A. J. Tulley.

THE AQUEOUS BLESSING.

Localities Favored by a Much-Needed Rainfall.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

GONZALES, November 22d.—It commenced raining here at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and is still raining at 6. Farmers are seeding. Rain is badly needed.

MERCED, November 22d.—A light sprinkle of rain has been falling here since 3 o'clock. The dust is well laid. There is a very light breeze from the northwest, and the prospects good for a continuance of moist weather.

GILROY, November 22d.—Indications are that the much-wished-for rain is close at hand.

LIVERMORE, November 22d.—A light rain is falling this afternoon.

PETALUMA, November 22d.—To-day was cloudy, and a slight sprinkle of rain fell. The indications are for more.

A CANNIBAL.

How a San Francisco Tough Made a Meal Off a Policeman.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 22d.—[Special.]—Officer Porter last night undertook to arrest George McElroy, the Minna-street terror. A struggle ensued, and while the officer played a lively tune on the hoodlum's head with his club, the latter made pretty good headway toward eating the officer. Porter had pieces bitten out of his neck, cheek, forehead, arm and leg, while one finger was nearly chewed off and a goodly portion of his left eye-brow. Relief finally came, and the man-eater taken to the prison, while what was left of his victim was carted off to the hospital.

LOTS OF ROAST MUTTON.

A Flock of Seven Hundred Sheep Burned by a Forest Fire.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

SALT LAKE, November 22d.—Word was received to-day that the mountain fires plainly visible from this city last Saturday surrounded and burned to death a flock of 700 sheep belonging to John J. Stocking, of Herriman, in Salt Lake valley. Great destruction of timber and improvements was made by these fires, which have now been burning about a month.

OREGON.

Governor Pennoyer's Want of Respect for "Dog" Salmon.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

SALEM, November 22d.—Several days ago Governor Pennoyer received a request from United States Fish Commissioner Goode, through Senator Dolph, asking that the State Fish Commissioner surrender to the Government the location on the Clackamas river for a United States salmon hatchery. To-day Governor Pennoyer wrote a long letter to Senator Dolph, which he has allowed to be published. The Governor is opposed to any hatchery on the Clackamas river, giving as his reason that the Chinook salmon will not ascend that far during the principal months of spawning. He is utterly opposed to fish-wheels and fish-traps, and to the canning of what is known as "dog" salmon.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

An Old Soldier and His Wife Burned to Death.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

VANCOUVER, November 22d.—A fire near the garrison this morning burned to the ground the Baker house, occupied by an old soldier, Patrick Clancy, and wife. They were burned to death, while the little boy escaped. Clancy had been in Frank Taylor's battery for thirty years, and was recently discharged.

VANCOUVER, November 22d.—Charles Bartels, of Company H, Fourteenth Infantry, a recent recruit, shot himself with a rifle yesterday, the ball passing through his heart. He was a native of Warsaw, Poland.

National Guard Reception.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

FRESNO, November 22d.—The Sixth Infantry Battalion, rank and file, together with the Cadets from Merced and Visalia, will be entertained here to-morrow, Thanksgiving Day, and Friday, by the Forsythe Guard, of this city. There will be fully 500 visitors. The programme commences to-morrow evening with a concert by the Battalion Band and a banquet to the officers. On Thanksgiving Day a review of the battalion and dress parade, followed by a barbecue, and in the afternoon a sham battle. At night a grand ball will be given in the armory, to which 1,000 persons are invited. On Friday the annual shooting contest for the battalion medal, staff medal, and medal for the private making the best score, will take place.

Visiting the Soldiers' Home.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

NAPA, November 22d.—The collision at Pinole delayed the train with the special car conveying the Board of Managers of the Veterans' Home. They arrived here at 1 o'clock, and were met at the depot by a committee of prominent citizens, who accompanied them to Yountville. J. D. Fry, B. O. Carr and M. M. Estee, representing the citizens of Napa county, went with the Board from Yountville. They were conveyed in carriages to the Home, and were received by committees of Posts of the G. A. R. of Napa county with a salute of cannon on arrival.

Another Branch Railroad.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

LIVERMORE, November 22d.—The Town Trustees last night granted Thomas Vaney and others a franchise for an electric light, provided that the work be commenced and finished within a year. A railroad surveying party is now camped this side of Walnut Creek, running a line from Avon Station, near Martinez, to Livermore, and setting the grade stakes for the Southern Pacific Company. This road opens up San Ramon and other fertile valleys, and will be greatly beneficial to this section.

A Sad Case of Suicide.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

PETALUMA, November 22d.—The remains of Mrs. Louis Tomasini, who committed suicide at her home in Marin county, arrived this evening and were taken to her mother's. The poison was taken in a fit of despondency. She had at intervals threatened to take strychnine, but little notice was taken of it. She lived happily with her husband and three children, the oldest of whom is seven years old.

Yuba Fair Association.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

MARYSVILLE, November 22d.—The movement is making good progress for the formation of a People's Joint Stock Agricultural Association to buy Agricultural Park and Pavilion here and improve the property. Also to promote greater interest in fairs. A committee of citizens has been organized to canvass for subscriptions.

New Colony Looking Up.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

MARYSVILLE, November 22d.—The new colony enterprise at South Butte bids fair to be a success. About ten persons came up on the train from the Bay last night and visited the spot to-day. Lots were sold to a number of visitors. The new town site is known as Sutter City. It is well situated, on good fruit land that has been under cultivation in grain.

Death of a Sonoma Pioneer.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

SANTA ROSA, November 22d.—Ex-Deputy Sheriff M. W. Connolly, a prominent politician of this county and pioneer resident of Petaluma, died at his residence to-day in this city of heart disease.

Accident to a Brakeman.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

EL MONTE, November 22d.—A brakeman named Martin, on the Southern Pacific Railway, fell from a freight train early this morning. He was severely injured about the head, and his right arm was dislocated.

A Careless Druggist Convicted.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 22d.—[Special.]—Frederick C. Winch, the druggist who sold the phosphorus to Percy B. Douglass, a minor, that resulted in the death of little Willie Burke, was this afternoon found guilty of misdemeanor before Judge Hornblower. He will appear for sentence to-morrow morning.

All is Serene Once More.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 22d.—[Special.]—J. Mervyn Donohue and wife met at the Palace Hotel this afternoon and became reconciled. The past is forgiven and forgotten. He says there is no truth in the report that he wanted a divorce.

The Governor's Nephew.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 22d.—[Special.]—Police Captain Thomas, of Oakland, a nephew of Governor Waterman, is being urged for Warden at San Quentin, to succeed Shirley.

SAN FRANCISCO AND VICINITY.

Baggage is now checked through to Eastern points without change of checks, as formerly.

The funeral services of the late A. A. Cohen took place at Ferndale, the family residence near Alameda, on Sunday last.

George F. Reeve, a former resident of Napa, has disappeared from his home on Liberty street, leaving no trace as to his whereabouts.

There is said to be trouble in the Mervyn Donahue household. Mrs. Donahue, rumor says, wants a legal separation from her husband, who is suspected with intrigues with other women.

Ex-Customs Inspector E. W. McLean, who was indicted recently with Boyd and Ciprico on a charge of dealing in Chinese return certificates, has been arrested by the United States Marshal and released on $5,000 cash bail.

Northey, the convicted jury-briber, on being asked with regard to any testimony the authorities thought they might induce him to offer in the Morrow trial, said: "No; I shall have no more to say than has already been told, and will go over to San Quentin and serve my term in the same frame of mind."

Forty Chinese women are being detained on board the steamship Belgic by Deputy Collector Scott, who states that a number of tell-tale documents have been discovered upon them. These are being translated, and contain information as to the methods usually resorted to in effecting landing through the Courts.

Large shipments of wine are daily arriving from Napa and vicinity. That stored in barrels generally comes via the railroad, but the pipes of wine come by the steamers Emma and Caroline to Jackson-street wharf. On an average, fifteen pipes of wine are received on the wharf by the steamers four times each week.

RUSSIA AND GERMANY.

The Czar Said to Have Been Misled by a Forged Letter.

BERLIN, November 22d.—The Cologne Gazette has caused a sensation by the statement that the Czar, in his recent interview with Prince Bismarck, learned that he had been deceived in regard to Germany's policy by a forged letter purporting to be from Bismarck. The letter is supposed to have been the work of Orleanist intriguists.

On the Czar's arrival at the frontier station of Wirballen all approaches were closed even to pedestrians. The route thence to St. Petersburg was guarded by 80,000 men, and the Czar changed carriages several times on the journey.

In an Offish Mood.

SOFIA, November 22d.—At a recent sitting of the Sobranje to-day it was decided to impeach Karaneloff, Zanoff, Nikeforoff, Karoleff and Orakakoff.

THE GOLDEN STATE.

The New York "Herald" Dilates Upon the Greatness of California.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, November 22d.—[Special.]—Under the head of "California and the Democratic Convention," the Herald says editorially: "Chicago desires the National Convention of 1888; Philadelphia has pathetically urged her claims; New York has shown conclusively to every man who thinks twice that it ought to be held here, and the Democrats of the Pacific slope are anxious to extend to it the hospitalities of San Francisco. California is worth thinking about. It is one of the most magnificent States of the Union. Less than forty years ago it was a wilderness, but the hiding-place of gold enough to set all creation by the ears, and pretty nearly all creation packed its gripsack and joined the scamble for nuggets. It was a human menagerie for a while, made up of the wildest elements of all nationalities, but when the craze subsided the people rolled up their sleeves, built cities, planted vineyards, established law and order, and in 1861 wheeled into line for the old flag and took their places in the front.

California is one of the richest and most productive pieces of real estate on the continent. Geographically speaking, it is numbered among the giants of the United States. If it should lie down on our seaboard it could lay its head in the lap of Mayor Hewitt in New York and its feet would rest in the cotton plantations of Georgia; and if it had the nightmare it might kick the top of Florida's head off. There is another curious fact. If a man was asked to point to the city which is about half-way along the line running from the easternmost point of land to the westernmost owned by the United States, he would not, probably choose San Francisco: and there he would make his mistake. Drawing a line from the western end of the Aleutian Islands to the eastern end of Maine, you will find to your surprise that the Golden Gate of the Pacific is about as near the middle of it as you can easily get. San Francisco may not get the National Convention next year, but it can't be long before her claims will be favorably heard.

CALIFORNIA VS. EUROPE.

Importations of Foreign Semi-Tropical Fruit Decreasing.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, November 22d.—The Commercial Advertiser, recognizing the excellence of California fruit, says: When California raisins were first introduced into this market, the vines on which they were grown were young and the product correspondingly poor. Since then the quality has been steadily improving, and it promises in time to entirely supplant Malaga raisins. As it is, the receipts of Malaga raisins are one-third less than they have been heretofore.

Chapman, of Rossiter and Skidmore, says: "Foreigners, in general, will soon have to look to other markets for many of their products. The so-called English walnut, which we formerly received from France, will be supplemented by the walnut grown in California. Likewise the prunes of that State are preferred to French prunes, and sell at higher prices. Everything that is imported to this country from semi-tropical Europe will be in time supplanted by the products of the great region called California."

MOST'S TRIAL.

The Boss Anarchist Before the Court for Incendiary Talk.

NEW YORK, November 22d.—Johann Most, the Anarchist, was placed on trial in the Court of General Sessions to-day on the charge of inciting violence by an inflammatory speech a week ago last Saturday night. He had been admitted to bail, and entered the Court-room without an escort of policemen. Most kept his hat on after entering until one of the Court officers brusquely took it off his head. Counselors Howe and Hummell were present to conduct his defense, while Assistant District Attorney Nicoll was on hand to represent the prosecution.

The work of getting a jury progressed very slowly. As the talesmen were called, they expressed a decided prejudice against Anarchists in general, and Most in particular. When the Court adjourned until to-morrow there were eleven jurors in the box.

VERY LURID.

The Anarchist Colors Illuminate a New York Court-room.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, November 22d.—The procuring of jurors to try Johann Most progressed slowly to-day. Counsel for Most wore red roses ostentatiously in their buttonholes. During the proceedings Delancy Nicoll called Most a dynamiter and bomb-thrower. Counsel for Most excitedly denounced this as untrue. The charge is "uttering words likely to incite riot and bloodshed."

Twenty Anarchists summoned as witnesses sat in the court-room, each wearing a flaming red necktie. Every seat in the Court-room was filled when Judge Cowing took his seat. Most, in 1886, faced Recorder Smith and a jury. It was shown that he spoke at a meeting and holding up a rifle said that such weapons could be bought for $10 each, and advised his hearers to invest in them to shoot capitalists. He summed up his own case in a fiery speech and was convicted. He served one year on Blackwell's Island for the offense. The recent offense has been detailed.

THE FARMERS.

National Grange Proceedings—Election of Officers.

LANSING (Mich.), November 22d.—Commissioner of Agriculture Coleman, in a long address to the National Grange this forenoon, said the work of his department has nearly stamped out pleuro-pneumonia and the oleomargarine fraud. Each State ought to have Experimental Stations and distribute seeds. He was opposed to the Commissioner of Agriculture having a place in the Cabinet, because the department should be free from politics. The following officers were elected: Worthy Master, Pat. Darden, Mississippi; Overseer, Joseph Draper, Massachusetts; Lecturer, Mortimer Whitehead, New Jersey; Steward, X. X. Charters, Virginia; Assistant Steward, J. H. Hale, Connecticut; Chaplain, A. J. Rose, Texas.

A POSSIBLE DIVVY.

An Indian Agent Puts a Neat Sum Into a Friend's Hand.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, November 22d.—[Special.]—Secretary Lamar declines at the present time to make public the report of Special Agent Armstrong, who was detailed to investigate the demand by the Crow Indians, of Montana, for the removal of Agent H. L. Williams. Mr. Williams is an uncle of Assistant Secretary Upshaw. One of the grounds of the complaint against Williams was that he had given a monopoly of selling hay cut on the reservation to a man who is clearing about $20,000 and $25,000 per year by the operation.

It is not known whether Armstrong has verified or disproved the charges made against Williams, and the political future of that office is in doubt.

HE SAID TOO MUCH.

Emma Abbott's Pulpit Critic Invited to Resign His Place.

NASHVILLE, November 22d.—Previous to the adjournment of the North Alabama Conference of the Southern Methodist Church at Tuscaloosa, last night, a resolution was adopted requesting Dr. D. C. Kelley, of Nashville, an eminent Methodist divine and missionary, and Treasurer of the General Conference, to resign his official position on account of his utterances in reference to the Emma Abbott episode at Nashville. The resolution will create a great sensation throughout the entire Southern Methodist Church.

THE VACANT LAND OFFICE.

Chances of a Californian to be Made Sparks' Successor.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, November 22d.—[Special.] The friends of Surveyor-General Hammond, of California, are reported to be urging his appointment as Commissioner of the General Land Office, the place Sparks resigned. Letters and telegrams have been received here in his behalf. To a gentleman who called upon the President recently and urged the selection of a Californian for this important place, Cleveland said he should leave the appointment of Sparks' successor to the discretion of the Secretary of the Interior.

This statement was understood to mean that the Commissionership will not be filled until Secretary Lamar's successor is appointed. In the event that the place is given to Postmaster-General Vilas, it is believed that he would advise the appointment of Mr. Bryant, his law partner at Madison, Wis., to be Commissioner of the Land Office.

CHAMBERLAIN'S BODY-GUARD.

England's Fishery Commissioner Making a Show of Himself.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, November 22d.—English representatives on the Fishery Commission, especially Joseph Chamberlain, are accompanied to this city by a squad of Pinkerton detectives, four in number. A friend of Mr. Chamberlain states that the distinguished Englishman does not fear any violence, nevertheless the British Minister has employed Pinkerton's men to guard him, sleeping or waking, while in the United States.

At night one of the detectives guards his sleeping apartments, and when he goes to his meals, which he invariably issists shall be served in the public dining-room, the Pinkerton agents occupy seats at an adjoining table until he is finished. They are always armed, and when he goes out for a walk or drive, they are always near him. When in his private apartments all callers upon Chamberlain or any member of his party are cautiously questioned and observed by a detective, who stands sentry at the foot of the stairway.

ANTI-LIQUOR.

Platform of the Minnesota Prohibitionist Party.

MINNEAPOLIS, November 22d.—About 200 people attended the State Prohibition Convention to-day. Plans for the next campaign were adopted. The report of the Committee on Resolutions was in the nature of an address to the people. The resolutions declare that voting is a duty, and neutrality a political crime; the evils of the liquor traffic have reached a magnitude that theatens the foundation of Government; the corrupt use of money to control legislation is the gravest problem in the history of the country; the saloon has entered both parties—Republican and Democratic—and now rules them both. High license and local option are declared failures. The entire prohibition of saloons is a principle sound in law and ethics, and the Prohibition party pledge its co-operation and influence in the prosecution of all measures needful to protect home from the drink curse.

SWEPT BY FLAMES.

Great Destruction by Forest and Prairie Fires in Several States.

ST. LOUIS, November 22d.—Reports of forest and prairie fires come from all directions except the north, and give accounts of considerable destruction of property. The bottom lands of Okaw and Big Muddy rivers in southwestern Illinois and the prairies in many parts of the same section are ablaze.

In southeastern Missouri and in Arkansas between the Iron Mountain road and the Mississippi river, the swamps and lowlands have been burned out, and the whole country filled with smoke. As far west as Hot Springs fires have devastated farms and burned residences and outbuildings.

On the east side of the Mississippi river, in Mississippi, much valuable property has been destroyed.

From Indian Territory come reports of great prairie fires. Thousands of tons of hay, great quantities of farming implements and a large number of cattle have been burned.

INFATUATED JONES.

Florida's Ex-Senator a Beggar on the Streets of Detroit.

CHICAGO, November 22d.—A News special from Detroit asserts that ex-United States Senator Jones, of Florida, who for some unexplained reason has sojourned in Detroit for two years past, is practically a beggar upon the streets, and but for the charity of a friend would be without food or shelter to-night. The story says he has run through all his money, and completely exhausted his credit. Leading members of the Democratic party, as well as high church officials and others, have repeatedly urged him to go home to Florida, but he will not do it. His mind is undoubtedly affected.

BARNUM'S ENEMIES.

Reward Offered for the Author of the Menagerie Fire.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, November 22d.—[Special.]—A reward of $1,000 has been offered for the discovery of the man who fired Barnum's winter quarters in Bridgeport, Conn., on Sunday night. A story has been floated to the effect that on Thursday or Friday evening of last week three men were overheard talking in a State-street liquor store about grievances they had against the show, and their determination to get even.

AN AFFLICTED STATE.

Drought and Disease Go Hand-in-Hand in Indiana.

CHICAGO, November 22d.—A News special from Plainfield, Ind., says the long-continued drought remains unbroken. If cold weather fairly sets in before rains come, the distressing state of affairs throughout that portion of the State will be multiplied. The impurity of the water now obtained is breeding typhoid fever of the worst type, and in some localities it is epidemic.

Prospectively a Tame Session.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, November 22d.—[Special.] Senator Butler, of South Carolina, has arrived in the city. In a conversation with your correspondent to-day he said he did not anticipate a very exciting session of Congress. He thought it would be a business session, with indications for a reduction of tariffs, but he could see no indications of any rancorous political controversies to excite and worry Senators and Representatives.

New Road Opened.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

OMAHA, November 22d.—The Fremont, Elkhorn and Missouri Valley extension into Wyoming Territory was opened from Douglas, Wy. T., to Glen Rock yesterday; also the extension from Rapid City, D. T., to Whitehead, D. T., a line 613 miles in length. This new line opens up a vast territory in Wyoming and Dakota, and will bring about a great change in transportation.

In regard to the cutting of rates out of St. Louis Pierson said that it affected only a teaspoonful of the business. The trouble originated in the demand of the Ohio and Mississippi Railway for a differential rate in its favor. The cutting was not likely to involve the trunk lines.

Father Damen's Golden Jubilee.

CHICAGO, November 22d.—The second and closing day of Father Damen's Golden Jubilee was celebrated last night at Sacred Heart Church. A programme of song and speech-making, replete with eulogiums on the many virtues of the venerable priest, was carried out. The addresses of the Young Women's Sodality and those of the deaf and dumb mutes were affecting. Many times the white-haired old clergyman bowed his head and silently wept. In answer to the many honors showered upon him he humbly thanked the parish, and after a short address he invoked a special blessing.

The woman came to this country from Liverpool, England, with Mrs. Fowler, and has always been employed in the Fowler family as cook.

The air was so thick with smoke that the engineer could not see the freight train.

The Women Stood by Him.

HARTFORD (Conn.), November 22d.—At an excited meeting of the First Unitarian Society to-night, an attempt was made to oust the pastor, Rev. J. C. Kimball, because of his open avowal of sympathy with the Chicago Anerchists in a recent sermon. The attempt was a failure. A CORRUPTION FUND.

Chinese Slave-Masters Making War on Honest Officials.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 22d.—[Special.]—Chinese slave-owners, importers and brokers have raised a corruption fund of $3,000 to secure the discharge or resignation of Interpreter J. E. Kipp and Inspector Samuel Ruddell from the customs service. The Celestials look on these two men and Deputy Collector Henry K. Scott as the leaders in the war that is now being waged on their infamous traffic. Last evening Interpreter Kipp was approached by a Celestial, who bluntly made an offer of $3,000 to him to resign. The offer was made in the Chinese language. Kipp did not wait until the man had finished, but promptly knocked him down as soon as the nature of the proposal was made plain. Kipp thought that it would avail nothing to make a complaint against the scoundrel, so he took the law into his own hands. He did not know the Chinaman.

CALIFORNIA INTERESTS.

Work Outlined by the California Congressional Delegation.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 22d.—[Special.]—Congressman Morrow, in an interview with a Call reporter to-night, says that no man, single-handed, can accomplish much in Congress. The California delegation will work together the coming session and unite on all matters of importance that bear on the interests of the State. They will seek an appropriation for a military telegraph from Point Reyes to this city; will try to secure a bill for an allowance to vessels of the revenue marine for the assistance of shipwrecked sailors; endeavor to secure a training-ship for naval apprentices, also an appropriation of $175,000 to repair the ship Hartford. They will urge an appropriation for surveying the unsurveyed lands of this State, and will ask Congress to abrogate that portion of the Burlingame treaty which permits the entrance of Chinese into America. In regard to the Presidential campaign he said: "I have always tied my faith to Blaine, and the knot holds as strong as ever."

SAFELY DOCKED.

The French Flagship successfully Docked at Mare Island.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

VALLEJO, November 22d.—The French flagship Duquesne was safely taken into the stone dock this morning. The vessel drew about twenty-six feet of water, but no difficulty was experienced in docking, there being plenty of depth of water. The docking was under the immediate supervision of Constructor Joseph Feaster, assisted by Captain J. B. Coghlan. The success of the docking was very gratifying to the yard authorities. It is thought it will result in much benefit to the yard. The entire cost of docking will be borne by this Government as an act of courtesy toward a friendly nation. Two workmen were injured during the docking. Bart. Sweeney had his right leg broken above the ankle, and Harry Bruce was severely cut across the right arm. The accident was caused by the breaking of a gypsy-head to a hoisting engine.

COLUSA ENTERPRISE.

Citizens of Maxwell and Williams Organize an Irrigation District.

MAXWELL, November 22d.—To-day there was voted the formation of Irrigation District No. 1, of Colusa county, under the Wright law. The district covers about 160,000 acres of land. Such an exciting time had never before been known in this section. There were 362 votes cast, only fifty-two of which were against. No section can show a greater majority in favor of irrigation. Soon Colusa county will come to the front as the home of thousands of small farmers. Prosperity will reign, and the once great wheat fields will be known no more. The officers elected are: Assessor, J. B. Compton, of Willows; Treasurer, G. B. Harden, of Maxwell; Director of Division Three, J. A. Sutton; of Division Four, Russell Delappe; of Division Five, A. J. Tulley.

A CANNIBAL.

How a San Francisco Tough Made a Meal Off a Policeman.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 22d.—[Special.]—Officer Porter last night undertook to arrest George McElroy, the Minna-street terror. A struggle ensued, and while the officer played a lively tune on the hoodlum's head with his club, the latter made pretty good headway toward eating the officer. Porter had pieces bitten out of his neck, cheek, forehead, arm and leg, while one finger was nearly chewed off and a goodly portion of his left eye-brow. Relief finally came, and the man-eater taken to the prison, while what was left of his victim was carted off to the hospital.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

Governor Pennoyer's Want of Respect for "Dog" Salmon.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

SALEM, November 22d.—Several days ago Governor Pennoyer received a request from United States Fish Commissioner Goode, through Senator Dolph, asking that the State Fish Commissioner surrender to the Government the location on the Clackamas river for a United States salmon hatchery. To-day Governor Pennoyer wrote a long letter to Senator Dolph, which he has allowed to be published. The Governor is opposed to any hatchery on the Clackamas river, giving as his reason that the Chinook salmon will not ascend that far during the principal months of spawning. He is utterly opposed to fish-wheels and fish-traps, and to the canning of what is known as "dog" salmon.

At night a grand ball will be given in the armory, to which 1,000 persons are invited. On Friday the annual shooting contest for the battalion medal, staff medal, and medal for the private making the best score, will take place.

Visiting the Soldiers' Home.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

NAPA, November 22d.—The collision at Pinole delayed the train with the special car conveying the Board of Managers of the Veterans' Home. They arrived here at 1 o'clock, and were met at the depot by a committee of prominent citizens, who accompanied them to Yountville. J. D. Fry, B. O. Carr and M. M. Estee, representing the citizens of Napa county, went with the Board from Yountville. They were conveyed in carriages to the Home, and were received by committees of Posts of the G. A. R. of Napa county with a salute of cannon on arrival.

Another Branch Railroad.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

LIVERMORE, November 22d.—The Town Trustees last night granted Thomas Vaney and others a franchise for an electric light, provided that the work be commenced and finished within a year. A railroad surveying party is now camped this side of Walnut Creek, running a line from Avon Station, near Martinez, to Livermore, and setting the grade stakes for the Southern Pacific Company. This road opens up San Ramon and other fertile valleys, and will be greatly beneficial to this section.

She lived happily with her husband and three children, the oldest of whom is seven years old.

SAN FRANCISCO AND VICINITY.

The funeral services of the late A. A. Cohen took place at Ferndale, the family residence near Alameda, on Sunday last.

George F. Reeve, a former resident of Napa, has disappeared from his home on Liberty street, leaving no trace as to his whereabouts.

There is said to be trouble in the Mervyn Donahue household. Mrs. Donahue, rumor says, wants a legal separation from her husband, who is suspected with intrigues with other women.

Ex-Customs Inspector E. W. McLean, who was indicted recently with Boyd and Ciprico on a charge of dealing in Chinese return certificates, has been arrested by the United States Marshal and released on $5,000 cash bail.

Northey, the convicted jury-briber, on being asked with regard to any testimony the authorities thought they might induce him to offer in the Morrow trial, said: "No; I shall have no more to say than has already been told, and will go over to San Quentin and serve my term in the same frame of mind."

Forty Chinese women are being detained on board the steamship Belgic by Deputy Collector Scott, who states that a number of tell-tale documents have been discovered upon them. These are being translated, and contain information as to the methods usually resorted to in effecting landing through the Courts.

Large shipments of wine are daily arriving from Napa and vicinity. That stored in barrels generally comes via the railroad, but the pipes of wine come by the steamers Emma and Caroline to Jackson-street wharf. RUSSIA AND GERMANY.

The Czar Said to Have Been Misled by a Forged Letter.

BERLIN, November 22d.—The Cologne Gazette has caused a sensation by the statement that the Czar, in his recent interview with Prince Bismarck, learned that he had been deceived in regard to Germany's policy by a forged letter purporting to be from Bismarck. The letter is supposed to have been the work of Orleanist intriguists.

On the Czar's arrival at the frontier station of Wirballen all approaches were closed even to pedestrians. The route thence to St. Petersburg was guarded by 80,000 men, and the Czar changed carriages several times on the journey.

THE GOLDEN STATE.

The New York "Herald" Dilates Upon the Greatness of California.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, November 22d.—[Special.]—Under the head of "California and the Democratic Convention," the Herald says editorially: "Chicago desires the National Convention of 1888; Philadelphia has pathetically urged her claims; New York has shown conclusively to every man who thinks twice that it ought to be held here, and the Democrats of the Pacific slope are anxious to extend to it the hospitalities of San Francisco. California is worth thinking about. It is one of the most magnificent States of the Union. Less than forty years ago it was a wilderness, but the biding-place of gold enough to set all creation by the ears, and pretty nearly all creation packed its gripsack and joined the scamble for nuggets. It was a human menagerie for a while, made up of the wildest elements of all nationalities, but when the creze subsided the people rolled up their sleeves, built cities, planted vineyards, established law and order, and in 1861 wheeled into line for the old flag and took their places in the front.

California is one of the richest and most productive pieces of real estate on the continent. Geographically speaking, it is numbered among the giants of the United States. If it should lie down on our seaboard it could lay its head in the lap of Mayor Hewitt in New York and its feet would rest in the cotton plantations of Georgia; and if it had the nightmare it might kick the top of Florida's head off. There is another curious fact. If a man was asked to point to the city which is about half-way along the line running from the easternmost point of land to the westernmost owned by the United States, he would not, probably choose San Francisco: and there he would make his mistake. Drawing a line from the western end of the Aleutian Islands to the eastern end of Maine, you will find to your surprise that the Golden Gate of the Pacific is about as near the middle of it as you can easily get. San Francisco may not get the National Convention next year, but it can't be long before her claims will be favorably heard.

CALIFORNIA VS. EUROPE.

Importations of Foreign Semi-Tropical Fruit Decreasing.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, November 22d.—The Commercial Advertiser, recognizing the excellence of California fruit, says: When California raisins were first introduced into this market, the vines on which they were grown were young and the product correspondingly poor. Since then the quality has been steadily improving, and it promises in time to entirely supplant Malaga raisins. As it is, the receipts of Malaga raisins are one-third less than they have been heretofore.

Chapman, of Rossiter and Skidmore, says: "Foreigners, in general, will soon have to look to other markets for many of their products. The so-called English walnut, which we formerly received from France, will be supplemeated by the walnut grown in California. Likewise the prunes of that State are preferred to French prunes, and sell at higher prices. Everything that is imported to this country from semi-tropical Europe will be in time supplanted by the products of the great region called California."

MOST'S TRIAL.

The Boss Anarchist Before the Court for Incendiary Talk.

NEW YORK, November 22d. — Johan Most, the Anarchist, was placed on trial in the Court of General Sessions to-day on the charge of inciting violence by an inflammatory speech a week ago last Saturday night. He had been admitted to bail, and entered the Court-room without an escort of policemen. Most kept his hat on after entering until one of the Court officers brusquely took it off his head. Counselors Howe and Hummell were present to conduct his defense, while Assistant District Attorney Nicoll was on hand to represent the prosecution.

The work of getting a jury progressed very slowly. As the talesmen were called, they expressed a decided prejudice against Anarchists in general, and Most in particular. When the Court adjourned until to-morrow there were eleven jurors in the box.

VERY LURID.

The Anarchist Colors Illuminate a New York Court-room.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, November 22d.—The procuring of jurors to try Johann Most progressed slowly to-day. Counsel for Most wore red roses ostentatiously in their buttonholes. During the proceedings Delancy Nicoll called Most a dynamiter and bomb-thrower. Counsel for Most excitedly denounced this as untrue. The charge is "uttering words likely to incite riot and bloodshed."

Twenty Anarchists summoned as witnesses sat in the court-room, each wearing a flaming red necktie. Every seat in the Court-room was filled when Judge Cowing took his seat. Most, in 1886, faced Recorder Smith and a jury. It was shown that he spoke at a meeting and holding up a rifle said that such weapons could be bought for $10 each, and advised his hearers to invest in them to shoot capitalists. He summed up his own case in a fiery speech and was convicted. He served one year on Blackwell's Island for the offense. The recent offense has been detailed.

THE FARMERS.

National Grange Proceedings—Election of Officers.

LANSING (Mich.), November 22d.—Commissioner of Agriculture Coleman, in a long address to the National Grange this forenoon, said the work of his department has nearly stamped out pleuro-pneumonia and the oleomargarine fraud. Each State ought to have Experimental Stations and distribute seeds. He was opposed to the Commissioner of Agriculture having a place in the Cabinet, because the department should be free from politics. The following officers were elected: Worthy Master, Pat. Darden, Mississippi: Overseer, Joseph Draper, Massachusetts; Lecturer, Mortimer Whitehead, New Jersey; Steward, X. X. Charters, Virginia; Assistant Steward, J. H. Hale, Connecticut; Chaplain, A. J. Rose, Texas.

A POSSIBLE DIVVY.

An Indian Agent Puts a Neat Sum Into a Friend's Hand.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, November 22d.—[Special.]—Secretary Lamar declines at the present time to make public the report of Special Agent Armstrong, who was detailed to investigate the demand by the Crow Indians, of Montana, for the removal of Agent H. L. Williams. Mr. Williams is an uncle of Assistant Secretary Upshaw. One of the grounds of the complaint against Williams was that he had given a monopoly of selling hay cut on the reservation to a man who is clearing about $20,000 and $25,000 per year by the operation.

It is not known whether Armstrong has verified or disproved the charges made against Williams, and the political future of that office is in doubt.

Kelley, of Nashville, an eminent Methodist divine and missionary, and Treasurer of the General Conference, to resign his official position on account of his utterances in reference to the Emma Abbott episode at Nashville. The resolution will create a great sensation throughout the entire Southern Methodist Church.

THE VACANT LAND OFFICE.

Chances of a Californian to be Made Sparks' Successor.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, November 22d.—[Special.] The friends of Surveyor-General Hammond, of California, are reported to be urging his appointment as Commissioner of the General Land Office, the place Sparks resigned. Letters and telegrams have been received here in his behalf. To a gentleman who called upon the President recently and urged the selection of a Californian for this important place, Cleveland said he should leave the appointment of Sparks' successor to the discretion of the Secretary of the Interior.

This statement was understood to mean that the Commissionership will not be filled until Secretary Lamar's successor is appointed. In the event that the place is given to Postmaster-General Vilas, it is believed that he would advise the appointment of Mr. Bryant, his law partner at Madison, Wis., to be Commissioner of the Land Office.

CHAMBERLAIN'S BODY-GUARD.

England's Fishery Commissioner Making a Show of Himself.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, November 22d.—English representatives on the Fishery Commission, especially Joseph Chamberlain, are accompanied to this city by a squad of Pinkerton detectives, four in number. A friend of Mr. Chamberlain states that the distinguished Englishman does not fear any violence, nevertheless the British Minister has employed Pinkerton's men to guard him, sleeping or waking, while in the United States.

At night one of the detectives guards his sleeping apartments, and when he goes to his meals, which he invariably insists shall be served in the public dining-room, the Pinkerton agents occupy seats at an adjoining table until he is finished. They are always armed, and when he goes out for a walk or drive, they are always near him. When in his private apartments all callers upon Chamberlain or any member of his party are cautiously questioned and observed by a detective, who stands sentry at the foot of the stairway.

ANTI-LIQUOR.

Platform of the Minnesota Prohibitionist Party.

MINNEAPOLIS, November 22d. — About 200 people attended the State Prohibition Convention to-day. Plans for the next campaign were adopted. The report of the Committee on Resolutions was in the nature of an address to the people. The resolutions declare that voting is a duty, and neutrality a political crime; the evils of the liquor traffic have reached a magnitude that theatens the foundation of Government; the corrupt use of money to control legislation is the gravest problem in the history of the country; the saloon has entered both parties—Republican and Democratic—and now rules them both. High license and local option are declared failures. The entire prohibition of saloons is a principle sound in law and ethics, and the Prohibition party pledge its co-operation and influence in the prosecution of all measures needful to protect home from the drink curse.

SWEPT BY FLAMES.

Great Destruction by Forest and Prairie Fires in Several States.

ST. LOUIS, November 22d.—Reports of forest and prairie fires come from all directions except the north, and give accounts of considerable destruction of property. The bottom lands of Okaw and Big Muddy rivers in southwestern Illinois and the prairies in many parts of the same section are ablaze.

In southeastern Missouri and in Arkansas, between the Iron Mountain road and the Mississippi river, the swamps and lowlands have been burned out, and the whole country filled with smoke. As far west as Hot Springs fires have devastated farms and burned residences and outbuildings.

On the east side of the Mississippi river, in Mississippi, much valuable property has been destroyed.

From Indian Territory come reports of great prairie fires. Thousands of tons of hay, great quantities of farming implements and a large number of cattle have been burned.

INFATUATED JONES.

Florida's Ex-Senator a Beggar on the Streets of Detroit.

CHICAGO, November 22d.—A News special from Detroit asserts that ex-United States Senator Jones, of Florida, who for some unexplained reason has sojourned in Detroit for two years past, is practically a beggar upon the streets, and but for the charity of a friend would be without food or shelter to-night. The story says he has run through all his money, and completely exhausted his credit. Leading members of the Democratic party, as well as high church officials and others, have repeatedly urged him to go home to Florida, but he will not do it. His mind is undoubtedly affected.

The impurity of the water now obtained is breeding typhoid fever of the worst type, and in some localities it is epidemic.

Prospectively a Tame Session.

[Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, November 22d.—[Special.] Senator Butler, of South Carolina, has arrived in the city. In a conversation with your correspondent to-day he said he did not anticipate a very exciting session of Congress. In regard to the cutting of rates out of St. Louis Pierson said that it affected only a teaspoonful of the business. The trouble originated in the demand of the Ohio and Mississippi Railway for a differential rate in its favor. The cutting was not likely to involve the trunk lines.

The addresses of the Young Women's Sodality and those of the deaf and dumb mutes were affecting. Many times the white-haired old clergyman bowed his head and silently wept. In answer to the many honors showered upon him he humbly thanked the parish, and after a short address he invoked a special blessing.

Dore, refuses to divulge the nature of the charge which she makes against the defendant, who is a well-known Board of Trade operator, but he intimates that it is a very serious one. The air was so thick with smoke that the engineer could not see the freight train.

HARTFORD (Conn.), November 22d.—At an excited meeting of the First Unitarian Society to-night, an attempt was made to oust the pastor, Rev. J. C. Kimball, because of his open avowal of sympathy with the Chicago Anerchists in a recent sermon. The attempt was a failure. PRIVATE SCANDAL AND THE PRESS.

Scandal has tireless legs; it never sleeps or rests; it knows only waking hours and eternal motion. It runs counter to every dictate of justice, and sets at nought the commonest rules the wisdom of ages has evolved for the protection of human rights. If charged with crime, a man is entitled to the presumption of innocence until his guilt be proved. But in the high Court of scandal it is held one is guilty until he proves himself innocent, and, as John G. Holland remarked, "even then it takes the liberty of doubting the testimony." The same great-hearted journalist, in treating of the popular capacity for scandal, said: "Every man who rejoices in a scandal thereby advertises his own untrustworthiness"—an epigram that is in fact a truism. The popular appetite for scandal is not denied, but that it should be therefore ministered to is so far from being true, that in fact every public and private influence should be exerted to repress the vicious tendency.

The most recent local rumor about alleged disloyalty to marriage vows has whetted the appetites of those who relish such bits of filth, to a degree that has led some to express the belief that because the press of the city does not nose out the scandal and bring the names of offender and victim to light and make the filth of the story drip from daily columns, therefore the press has been corrupted and paid to maintain silence.

Sensible men know better. So far as that scandalous lie may be aimed at this journal, it is sufficient to say that it occasions no disquiet, and its contempt for the busy-bodies who spend their time in circulating such falsehoods leaves no room for anger. The press of the country generally entertains pity for these restless souls with morbid appetites for the smutty, who keep themselves in worry because the press is not run to suit their scandalous ideas. The press is a great deal better than such people.

The publication of a paper is a private business and the same rules that dictate the conduct of gentlemen in private life ought to direct their course in public print. The decent press of the country does not print the stories of amors and marital disloyalty that are to be heard on the street at any hour, because it has better purposes in view, and is not prepared to surrender its space to the Venus miscellany style of literature, or to expose to shame and contumely the innocent who are invariably involved in the licentiousness of men and women. The decent press, in short, does not drag the names of households out of privacy and hold them up to scandalous view and the greedy gaze of scandal-mongers, on account of the disloyalty or amours of some member of the home, simply because it is not to its taste, and that no one, in such matters, has the right to question.

With the San Francisco Alta, it "begs to be excused from making it a specialty to hunt up private peccadilloes to prove the corruption and sinfulness of this city and its citizens in the midst of whom it is published." If the attention were given to the private scandals of every day by the press essential to the ascertainment of their truth prior to publication, two score of reporters could be kept busily engaged on each journal on that class of work, and a full page of each be absorbed in every issue by the mere recital of domestic infelicities, of liberntinism and disloyalty to homes.

If newspapers, self-respecting and respect desiring, were published for that purpose they would be bound to give publicity to all manner of scandalous stories concerning debauches; visitations to places of disrepute; base deceit and unrestrained passion; of indiscretions and weaknesses on the part of the foolish, and cruel and disloyal conduct on the part of those to whom are given the care of wife and children, or mother and sister. Quoting again from the Alta, we concur when it says:

> The newspaper which day after day gives up its editorial columns and its news columns to the record of crimes becomes no more elevated in morals than that Police Gazette, which many States are excluding from their borders by drastic statutes.
> * * * The purity of the world is not increased by a press which does nothing but uncover its impurity, and point to the achievement as proof of enterprise.

The tendency to dwell upon the details of crime, especially if they be lickerish and unchaste, does not lead to abhorrence of transgression. It leads to that familiarity with vice which produces more embraces than abhorrence. It is a fact that this style of journalism gives far more space to description of and speculation about a small criminal act than to a great act of virtue, self-sacrifice, generosity or charity.

We think it enough to note as news current those offenses which simply prove that the millennium, yet elsewhere unknown, has not migrated to San Francisco, while we lead our readers into more useful lines of thought than the daily contemplation of the meanness and immorality which are here, as they have been in all places since man felt the impulse of lawless passion. We are perfectly aware that the press which pursues the opposite course gets a certain reputation as being on the side of that party against which it daily offends. But, consider, if a daily visitor to your house should, in the presence of wife and children, pursue precisely the same course, describing in the same words exact y crimes and criminals, how long would he be made welcome? How soon would you discover that he sent hot cheeks, flushed with lawless fancies, to the pillows of your children, and to the pillow of their mother a fear more than vague? If you would not permit to such a visitor such revelations in your family circle, in your presence and under your eye, why permit the same thing in a newspaper, read by your sons and daughters behind your back, to steal away their purity?

Unfortunately there are cases that force themselves so prominently to view that the press cannot avoid giving them more publicity; cases that so involve themselves with crime and outrage and violated laws and cruel dishonor, that it is no mercy to be silent, and injustice to society to refuse to debate them. In all such, as in public crimes, official venality, abused public trust, etc., the honest press entertains neither doubt nor fear concerning its course.

So too, even in private scandals, there are instances in which the injured party makes complaint and demands that the wrong-doer be named to the world; in which the positive evidences of guilt and the belief that a good purpose will be conserved, together with all circumstances of the case, will justify the newspaper in publishing the scandal. But these are comparatively rare. In the instance that immediately prompts these remarks, no legal proceeding has been had. Nor has any request been made by the party alleged to have been wronged, or by friends, that publicity through the press shall be made of the rumored injury. Whenever that is done, the RECORD-UNION will not fail to treat the case as the truth may justify, regardless of persons or influences invoked to prevent it. Until such appeal in behalf of the alleged victim is made, the scandal must be treated on a par with scores of others which deal with skeletons in private closets. The columns of the press cannot be kept free from all reference to scandals; the means of communication are so multitudinous, and the news-gathering art so keen-scented that telegraphic dispatches alone are sufficient to flood a newpaper with details of the wickedness, venality and corruption extant. There is enough, heaven knows, of the bad that comes to the surface, enough of venal actions, dishonest conduct, of domestic outrage, of marital infelicity, of connubial disloyalty, of deceit and cruelty and outrage; enough of the badness of the world that goes to print to satisfy the most morbid appetite for filth. There is no need to search for private scandal or parade names before the public to the shame of the innocent, unnecessarily. The press that does not keep detectives prowling in private closets because it is not to its taste, can afford to laugh at the charges of the foul-minded that it is bought to silence, because it refuses to feed a vitiated appetite for indecent news.

FRANCE.

The motion in the French Chamber to declare the Presidency vacant received 191 for, to 369 votes in opposition. This will unquestionably be accepted by President Grevy as an expression of confidence, and will disincline him to accept the advice of Clemenceau that his resignation is necessary. President Grevy as a patriot, cannot, in this critical period in the history of the Republic, afford to set the precedent of the Chief Executive of the nation retiring before the clamor of a turbulent legislative branch, nor is there any likelihood of his doing so, though it is intimated that he has considered it. Rural France stands behind and firmly supports him. The unrest of the Capital, promoted and aggravated by the conspiracies of Monarchists, socialists and pretenders, is not likely to greatly disturb the loyalty of the country outside of the great cities. At a time when Germany is upon the eve of trouble, and the great minds that have preserved German unity are soon to be withdrawn, leaving none capable to fill their places, France has greater need than ever to preserve harmony at home. The Monarchists see their opportunity, and will do all in their power to foment discontent that may lead on to revolution. The hope of free government hangs trembling upon the verge of an abyss. Grevy is of all others the man to save France from dissolution. The nation has reason to be thankful that this man, to whom was given the precious privilege of being among the first to proclaim the Republic nearly two decades ago, should at the advanced age of eighty-four be so well preserved physically and intellectually, and possessed of such vigorous mentality. Such men are raised up to nations but once in an age; their successors are rarely of the same mettle, and history does not repeat them save at long intervals. The destiny of France reposes to-day in the hand of one such man. If he yields to the advice of Clemenceau and Floquet and Goblet, and deserts his post now, no man can possibly forecast all the result—it must be confusion, it may be anarchy.

SOCIALISTS have charged that in Germany the proportion of female labor was increasing, and that its prevalence was injurious to health and morals. The report of the German Factory Inspectors give denial to the charge. In the majority of districts the proportion of female labor has remained practically unchanged for a long series of years; in the majority of employments no distinctly injurious effects are reported. We would like some one to point out a solitary charge yet made by the Socialists against society that has not on sober inquiry fallen to the ground.

SAYS the Alta: "Anarchists are blatant against American law. We defy them to find any law that compels them to stay in this country." But it may not be long before they will easily discover a law that will prevent them coming into it.

Another San Joaquin Valley Railroad.

Though no company has yet been incorporated by the Southern Pacific Company for the purpose of building a line down the east side of the San Joaquin Valley, still the Directors are making preparations to commence the work at a very early date A few days since a construction train was side-tracked at Merced, while another train drew up in the vicinity of Visalia. The company's project is a most extensive one, and involves the construction of a line from Oakdale to Poso, paralleling the main line between these two points. Between these two main lines there will be branches crossing the valley at intervals, connecting with the main track at Merced, Fresno, Visalia and Tulare, thus establishing an entire east-side system for the valley. This line will open up the fertile foothill country of the Sierra Nevada, undoubtedly the most fertile fruit belt in the State.

Efforts will be made to secure subsidies from Fresno, Tulare and other cities of the plain, it being evident that these cities will be largely benefited by the extensions. An arrangement was made with the people of Visalia some months back, by which the branch line, nine miles in length, connecting that city and Goshen, was to be surrendered to the Southern Pacific Company in return for being included in the distribution of branch lines on the east side of the valley and for being given equal rates to those given at Goshen. These privileges will undoubtedly result in building up a big supply point of Visalia.

On the west side of the valley a few modifications have been made in the running of the Tracy-Huron line, some twenty miles of which will be ready for operation shortly. A detour will be made into the coast ranges, by which the line will pass through Haggin & Carr's large tract. This line will connect with the main line at Sumner.—S. F. Call.

The Stanford University.

The San Francisco Chronicle of yesterday says:

Senator Stanford entertained the members of the Board of Trustees of the Leland Standford Jr. University at his elegant home near Menlo Park, last Friday. After being driven around Palo Alto, viewing its wealth of verdure and horseflesh, the Trustees were taken to the site of the proposed University. They were surprised at what was shown them. They knew that the landscape gardeners were at work on the grounds and that some progress had been made on the buildings, but not one had any idea that so much had been accomplished. Several of the buildings are nearly complete, while the basement and walls to the second floor of four others are constructed, the whole giving a very excellent idea as to the general design and order of architecture.

The construction is in so forward a state that it will certainly be completed in a year, so that the actual work of the great institution may reasonably be expected to be in active operation soon after.

Senator Stanford will leave for Washington to-day, to be present in his seat at the opening of Congress, and has made every needful arrangement for the vigorous prosecution of the work in his absence. During the winter he will also, in all probability, so far as possible, complete the faculty and determine upon an outline, at least, of the curriculum.

SENATOR STANFORD.

AN INTERVIEW ON LOCAL AND NATIONAL QUESTIONS.

The Senator Favors Abolishing Internal Revenues—The Pacific Railroad Commission—Etc.

[S. F. Call, November 22d.]

The members of the California Congressional delegation are busily gathering together their impedimenta and arranging their affairs preparatory to their long winter sojourn in the national capital.

Numerically speaking, at least, the California delegation to the coming session will be a very strong one, for besides the ordinary members it includes the claimants to several contested seats, both in Northern and Southern California.

"I have been so very busy during the day," said Senator Stanford to a Call reporter last night, "that I do not feel in the least like being interviewed. I leave on Wednesday evening, and consequently am hard at work preparing for departure. Various matters pertaining to my private business require settlement. I am desirous, before leaving," continued the Senator, with a smile, "to clear my desk up."

"Have you any objections to state what measures the California delegation intend bringing forward at Washington?" asked the reporter.

"We intend, primarily," replied the Senator, "to bring forward and endeavor to have passed a wine bill and a forestry bill. So far as the first goes there will be no difficulty, I think, about passing it in the Senate. What is wanted is a bill which will permit us to use the spirit distilled from our grapes to fortify our sweet wines. If this is conceded us the wine industry will be put on a much more satisfactory basis. I am decidedly in favor," continued Senator Stanford, "of the abolition of the internal revenue duties. The Republican party, which preaches the doctrine of protection with so much earnestness, ought certainly, I think, to take in hand the work of repealing the tax upon home industry. It was a war measure, and excusable at the time, but its retention in the present state of the nation's finances seems to me in the light of an exaction. The Government can well afford to do without it."

"What measures are proposed, Senator, for the reduction of the surplus?" asked the reporter.

"That is something," said Senator Stanford, laughing, "which the Republican party will have to take in hand. It has proved too difficult a problem for the Democrats to solve, consequently they have done nothing. Yet there is good excuse for their inaction, for so prosperous a financial condition is absolutely unprecedented in the world's history. I don't remember the instance of another nation whose surplus resources have been so great as actually to become a menace to the country. I think, therefore, that the Republicans will have to step forward and create a precedent which the Democrats can follow in the future. What measures will be advanced, however, I am not prepared to say."

"That question naturally suggests another, Senator, regarding the next Presidential campaign," said the reporter.

"That is something about which I do not intend to speak," replied the Senator.

"Have Blaine's prospects for renomination been altered by recent Eastern events?"

"The California delegation," answered Senator Stanford, "ought to go unpledged to any particular candidate. There are plenty of good men in the ranks of the party, and it will be impossible, I believe, to select a candidate who is not allied to any particular section or faction and who will consequently receive the entire Republican vote. If, however, a candidate is nominated whose affiliation to any particular faction is known, he will not, without saying any more, receive the vote of the whole party."

"Do you expect any action to be taken by Congress on the report of the Pacific Railway Commission?"

"No," said the Senator, "for I think that the committee misunderstood its duties. It was appointed by Congress to inquire into the equities existing between the Government and the subsidized roads, and instead of that the members merely propounded to me a series of interrogatories founded on what they conceived to be the purposes of the measure. They came out here to find something out against us, and their whole inquiry was directed to that end. There are no equities existing between the Government and the roads which require consideration."

"Was there not a proposition to appoint another Commission for that purpose?" asked the reporter.

"Yes," said Senator Stanford, "I proposed that Congress appoint a Court of Equity, whose duty would be to consider and to pass upon the rights not only of the Government but of the railroads; who would weigh the questions at issue judicially and without prejudice. What action, however, Congress will take I cannot predict."

"Will there be any fresh legislation at the forthcoming Congress with reference to the Chinese Restriction Act?" asked the reporter.

"I take no stock whatever," replied the Senator, "in the present newspaper agitation against the Federal Courts. The Federal Judges we have in San Francisco are as honest and as upright as any in the country, and the imputations cast on their integrity are not justified by facts. So far as the Senate is concerned, however, I believe there will be no difficulty in passing an amendment to the present Act similar to that which passed at the last session. I had that matter in hand, and succeeded in getting the bill through without opposition even from Hoar or Evarts, or any of these other men. Of course," continued the Senator, "I explained the matter to them on the outside, so that they understood exactly the status of the question. At the present time, however, it seems to me we are in much greater need of legislation to protect us from bad white people than from the Mongolians. The one thing to dread about the Chinese is their numbers, while the others, who are taking advantage of the cheap rates from Europe across the Atlantic, are morally bad. Last year these rates were as low down as $8, and consequently European nations find it a matter of very trifling expense to protect themselves by foisting upon this country the very worst element they possess. I am strongly in favor of passing a measure restricting such emigration."

"Don't you consider those low rates an inducement to the settlement of California, Senator?" asked the reporter.

"I am certainly in favor of low rates to induce proper emigration," replied the Senator, "especially because low rates enable an emigrant to bring with him his wife and children. So far as settling up California is concerned, however, that is another question. No railroad has any interest in shipping emigrants further than the terminus of their own line. If, for instance, the emigrant travels on a through rate to California his fare is divided among several roads, none of them obtaining very much, while we gain the ultimate advantage, as that man becomes a customer of ours. If, on the contrary, he stops east of the Rockies it is a corresponding advantage to the line in whose territory he settles."

In answer to a question regarding the construction of a subsidized cable to either Honolulu or to Yokohama, Senator Stanford said he had hardly paid much attention to either proposition, but was in favor of subsidizing any enterprise which promised an increase of the nation's export trade. "I have no doubt, however," he said, "that were the cable to be constructed by private enterprise, it would prove a paying speculation, and would undoubtedly increase our trade with the East."

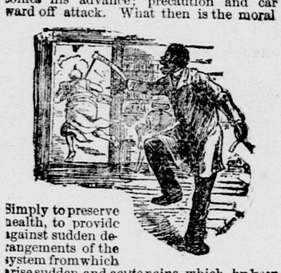
YOU, SIR! NEXT!

Isn't there something very suggestive in this salutation of the barber? There stands Old Father Time, for instance, with his scythe. What of his harvest? Do what we will we can't avoid the inevitable. Life may be saved, prolonged, made happy by physical comfort, be blessed by spiritual guidance be honored by good works, but it has its limit ordained by fate. The Old Reaper may be forgiving, he may be lenient and partial to many; notwithstanding all, the sweep of the scythe goes on—ranks are mowed down, you are reached at last. He calls "Next," and passes on to rank of other victims. How near he is we never know. We may know that he's about, that's all, by many signals. Even a minor ache or pain may be the forerunner of his swift approach, or chronic agony of his slow but certain coming. Neglect of either only welcomes his advance; precaution and early ward off attack. What then is the moral



Simply to preserve health, to provide against sudden derangements of the system from which arise sudden and acute pains, which, by keeping the proper remedy at hand for use, are cured at once and permanently. But to go back to the barber. Mr. Willett F. Cook, publisher of the Courier, Canajoharie, N. Y., under date of February 10, 1887, relates the following incident: "Thos. Beekman, a prominent colored barber of this village suffered several months with rheumatism he was unable to stand up part of the time and attended to his customers with difficulty Having been myself greatly relieved by this great remedy for pain, I advised him to try it. He was rubbed three or four times before dinner. When he left his shop he was as spry as ever in his life. He says he danced a jig. St. Jacobs Oil cured him as it cured me, and he is the happiest man in the town." If three applications will cure a chronic case of rheumatism and induce a man to dance a jig, which are facts, the Old Reaper will often be fooled. "Next!"

Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. mr15-1yMWF

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs powders, syringes, astringents, or any similar application, because they are all irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces, and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who have for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict, testify to radical and permanent cures wrought by ELY'S CREAM BALM. 1y

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

A Reporter Fired.

Last evening a reporter of the Bee, who also acts in the capacity of correspondent of the San Francisco Examiner, became rather fresh around the Governor's office, and came near getting a good sound thrashing. He called on the Governor to know what the latter was doing with the secret service fund, and when he was politely informed that it was none of his business, he waxed wrathy and wanted to clean out the entire Capitol. When Private Secretary Boruck talked of thrashing the fresh news-gatherer, the latter politely told Mr. Boruck that he respected age and for that reason he allowed Mr. Boruck to escape a drubbing. Things began to get rather blue, and the newspaper scribbler was invited to take a walk and not repeat his visit, with the injunction that if he did he would get hurt. The Governor was very indignant at what he considered an insult, and expressed himself very freely as to the newspaper that would employ such individuals in the capacity of reporters. Hereafter reporters will not have many favors shown them at the Governor's office, all will be treated coolly, because one young man got above his business and imagines that not even the Governor's secret service fund is beyond his inquiry. This is not the first offense of this young man at the Capitol, and he has certainly injured his ability to serve his employers, from the fact that he has cut short his avenues of news-gathering, besides injuring others who are in the reportorial business.

Police Court.

In the Police Court yesterday Louis Selo and G. Wehle were fined $3 75 each for fast driving within the city limits. Ah Soon forfeited his $5 deposit for not appearing to answer to the charge of misdemeanor. Ah Lee refused to give his true name to the Assessor and a fine of $7 50 was imposed. Ah Foy, booked on the same charge, was dismissed. Jose Pepino, arrested on complaint of Josephine Machabo charging him with battery, had his case continued until to-day. French Marie and French Marcelli were next arraigned on the charge of disturbing the peace. The former was acquitted and the latter fined $7 50. John Doe, charged with disturbing the peace, forfeited his $5 deposit. Morgan Sweeny and Joseph Meyerhoffer, taken in for being on "a booze," were discharged, as they appeared to be working men. Andrew Mertley and Jeding Tolman, charged with gaming, were next called. The latter was discharged, the evidence not warranting a conviction. The former is a colored boy, and by a sleight of hand trick succeeded in relieving a stranger of a considerable sum of money. The cards which were used in the game were produced in evidence, and the Court was almost positive that they were so marked on the back that they were well known to the defendant. The Court found him guilty and ordered him to appear for sentence to-day.

A Collision at Pinole.

Yesterday morning about 10 o'clock a collision occurred at Pinole in which three men were injured and the engines and mail cars were badly damaged. The east-bound overland was awaiting on the main track the arrival of the west-bound local, which leaves here at 6 o'clock. For some reason the engine of the local did not slow up in time to be switched off, and ran into the overland. Quite a jar was caused, and Wells, Fargo's messenger, W. H. H. Willey, and Frank Atherton were quite severely injured, the latter probably fatally. Geo. Miller, mail agent, was also bruised. The overland was delayed over two hours, not arriving here until 1:30 P. M. Mr. Willey, the injured messenger, was brought to this city and conveyed to his home in one of Wells, Fargo's wagons. His back is badly strained, and it is thought he has received internal injuries.

There Are Two Sides to the Picture.

A gentleman residing at San Jose wrote Governor Waterman a letter asking him to reconsider his decision in the Goslaw case and commute the latter's sentence to imprisonment for life. He closed his appeal by saying his only interest in the matter was from a humanitarian standpoint. The Governor replied that the case was closed and could not again be reopened, and added: "I observe that your interest in the case of Goslaw is that of a humanitarian. In that I am fully in accord with you, only with this difference: Your humanity leads you to plead to me in the interest of one man, while my humanitarian principles are expressed in behalf of the good and law-abiding people of the whole Commonwealth, who must be protected in life, limb and property against the assaults of the criminal and vicious."

OPEN THE STREETS.—Now that the Twenty-fourth street railroad is an assured fact, thanks to the push and energy of Mr. Meyers, it is suggested that he keep on and have the public streets connecting with Twenty-fourth street opened by the Board of Trustees, and thereby create more travel on his cars. The opening of U, V and W streets west from Twenty-fourth, towards the ridge, are the most important to him at the present time, S and T streets being already open. This done and the proposed electric light placed on the hill, will make public thoroughfares of what are now cow pastures east of Twenty-second street. This latter street, if graded, would tend to rapidly build up the most desirable residence property of the city, and would greatly enhance its value.

SOLDIER'S HOME SITE.—At the meeting of the Board of Managers of the National Soldiers' Home, held at San Francisco Monday, a large number of sites were proposed and the merits of the several localities explained by local representatives. Among the localities making claims for the location were Haywards, Oakland, San Diego, National City, Yountville, Petaluma, Santa Rosa, Vallejo, Agua Caliente and Sacramento. Concerning the latter A. Abbott, in a brief speech, described the advantages here, and offered the Winters tract in whole or part at about $200 per acre.

ALL ABOUT A LITTLE CORN.—A suit has been entered in Justice Davis' Court by F. H. L. Weber against W. H. Bagwill. Under a law passed by the last Legislature it is a misdemeanor for the mortgagor to dispose of any of the mortgaged property without the written consent of the mortgagee. Weber claims that Bagwill mortgaged to him last September a crop of corn, and that the defendant disposed of the corn without the authority of the plaintiff. Sheriff Drew went to the county to serve a subpena on Bagwill to insure his attendance in Court when wanted.

NOTARIES PUBLIC.—There is a great demand for Notarial commissions and the clerks in the Governor's office are kept busy answering communications relating thereto. Each county is limited in the number of its Notaries and the following have their entire quota: Alameda, Fresno, San Francisco, San Joaquin, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, Santa Clara, Tulare, San Diego, Los Angeles and San Bernardino.

REWARDED.—Chief Dillman received a reward on Monday for his valuable detective services in working up the case of Ed. Hines, who was murdered at Roseville. DIMMIG DISCHARGED.

A Mere Affidavit Containing no Evidence Showing Guilt Insufficient.

The Supreme Court, sitting in bank, yesterday rendered the following decision in the ex parte Dimmig habeas corpus case, which was argued on Monday. Sections 811, 812 and 813 of the Penal Code are as follows:

Section 811. When an information is laid before a Magistrate of the commission of a public offense triable within the county, he must examine on oath the informant or prosecutor, and any witnesses he may produce, and take their deposition in writing, and cause them to be subscribed by the parties making them.

Section 812. The deposition must set forth the facts stated by the prosecutor and his witnesses, tending to establish the commission of the offense, and the guilt of the defendant.

Section 813. If the Magistrate is satisfied therefrom that the offense complained of has been committed, and that there is reasonable ground to believe that the defendant has committed it, he must issue a warrant of arrest.

Under these provisions a Magistrate has no jurisdiction to issue a warrant of arrest without some evidence tending to show the guilt of the party named in the warrant. The original information may be sufficient, though made only upon information and belief, if followed by the deposition of the complainant, or some other witness stating facts tending to show the guilt of the party charged. Of course, where there was some evidence upon which the Magistrate acted, we would not interfere. It may be also true that the original information might be treated as a deposition, and in such view, if it contained positive evidence of facts tending to show guilt, it might be sufficient as a basis for the issuance of a warrant. But a mere affidavit in the form of an information, containing no evidence and followed by no deposition stating any fact tending to show guilt, is insufficient to support a warrant. The liberty of a citizen cannot be violated upon the mere expression of an opinion under oath that he is guilty of a crime. (Swart vs. Kimball, 43 Mich., 443; Blodgett vs. Race, 18 Hun, 132; in re Balcom, 12 Neb., 316; ex parte Burford, 3 Cranch, 448; People vs. Smith, 1 Cal., 9; People vs. Heffron, 53 Mich., 529; ex parte Hayres, 18 Wendell, 612; Loden vs. Phelps, 13 Wend., 46; People vs. Hamilton, 66 Cal., 594). Such being the case here, the petitioner is discharged.

DIMMIG RE-ARRESTED.

The San Francisco Post of last evening says: "Chief Crowley received a dispatch this afternoon from J. D. Spencer, Clerk of the Supreme Court, which is now in session in Sacramento, announcing that an opinion had been filed by the Court ordering John A. Dimmig released from custody. Before the receipt of the dispatch Chief Crowley and Assistant D. A. Kirk, believing that the writ would be granted, sent for Mrs. Sarah Benhayon, and she swore out a new complaint against Dimmig. The second complaint directly charges Dimmig with the murder of Henry Benhayon on the 23d ult., and in an affidavit on the back the mother swears that the murder was accomplished by the administration of cyanide of potassium. When Judge Hornblower convened Court this afternoon, Prosecuting Attorney Coffey asked for the dismissal of the former charge of murder, in compliance with the decision of the Supreme Court. Dimmig was then led back to his quarters in the tanks, and the new warrant was served upon him."

Signal Service.

Sergeant Barwick, of the Signal Service station in this city, has received a circular from the Signal Office, War Department, Washington, which shows how beggarly the Government has acted with this most important service. It is hoped that Congress, at its next session, will restore the $310 per annum, and allow the deficiency asked. The circular is as follows:

"Memoranda of deficiency estimate as required for the service of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1888: For rent, hire of civilian employes, furniture, light, stationery, ice, stove and fixtures, repairs, rent of telephone, text-books, lumber, and other expenses of offices maintained as stations of observation outside of Washington, District of Columbia, being for the service of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1888, $5,000.

"Note—This amount is necessary to properly provide for the present stations of observation during the current fiscal year. Congress, in 1883, reduced the amount allowed for rent, stationery, light, ice, furniture, text books, and all expenses from an annual allowance of $310 per station of observation to $250 per year. This reduction has necessitated in every year the discharge of janitors and cleaners in the middle of the fiscal year, and the refusal of ice, stoves, stationery and furniture for the proper equipment and management of said stations. At present all janitors and cleaners are under orders for discharge on January 1, 1888. For four years past the dilapidated and badly-worn furniture of this service has steadily deteriorated in appearance and quality, since the reduced appropriations have not permitted its being replaced by new furniture. The offices of the country in general, as shown by the official inspection reports, are, in many cases, in an unfit and improper condition. In the last four years the repairs of old furniture and the purchase of new has averaged but one dollar per month for each station.

"There are now a number of offices that could be moved into Government buildings, and others could be moved by April 1, 1888, and thus save rent in future, but for lack of funds this is impossible, as the expense in each case would be about $250."

New Metropolitan Theater.

At the Metropolitan to-night the Sherman & Golding combination gives the first of its entertainments here. It is announced to consist of Sherman's illusions, which in an incomplete way and under circumstances forcing the operator into insufficient space, were shown here a fortnight ago; and Golding Bros.' mediumistic tricks and exhibitions, specialty character acts, songs, dances, etc. There will also be introduced here for the first time the prismatic fountain and Sherman's trick "The Vanishing Lady." One division of the entertainment will be devoted to tableaux and dissolving views—by Sherman's apparatus, and in which living figures are employed—of scenes in the life of Christ, from the trial before Pilate to the Resurrection. These tableaux are announced as something superior, and as in no degree offending religious sentiment, but on the contrary, to be living pictures of the character of some of the greatest art works. Much fine costumery is to be employed in mythological, biblical and sentimental tableaux, of which there are very many upon the programme. There are to be given also quartets and solos as accompaniments to some of the tableaux. Sherman says that having a clear stage and having all conditions perfect, the illusions will be greatly superior to those shown in connection with the plays of the Cinderella troupe. A large number of assistants have been engaged, to make the tableaux complete.

CARPETS AT AUCTION.—W. H. Sherburn will have a great auction sale of second-hand carpets, at the new Pavilion, Fifteenth and N streets, at 10 A. M. Friday, by order of W. C. Hendricks, Secretary of State, all of the second-hand carpet taken from the floor of the State Capitol building, consisting of fine velvet, body Brussels and tapestry carpets, some of which are in very good order—in all about 1,300 yards. Also, about 400 yards of cocoa matting of various widths. Sale positive and without reserve. Terms cash.

WHY IS IT THUS?—The majority of the street lamps on M street from Front to Tenth street are on the north side of the street. The property owners on the south side of the street are not hoggish but would like to have a portion of the lamps placed on their side of the street so as to give better service.

About a week ago at Florin a man, who by no means was in a sober condition, jumped aboard the afternoon passenger train and threw away the lantern which is the danger signal on the last car. The Carlow baseball nine are regretting that the regulation season for ball and bat is so near over, as since their success last Sunday in turning the tables upon the H. The victory in the present instance was celebrated with a banquet to the Carlow nine, at the French Restaurant, given by their manager, and who says he has ordered another set-out to follow the next game.

What Am I to Do?

The symptoms of Biliousness are unhappily but too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A Bilious man is seldom a breakfast-eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids, but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and furred, it is rough at all events.

The digestive system is wholly out of order, and Diarrhea or Constipation may be a symptom, or the two may alternate. There are often Hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all this, if not effect a cure, try Green's August Flower. It costs but a trifle, and thousands attest its efficacy.

DYSPEPSIA

Causes its victims to be miserable, hopeless, confused, and depressed in mind, very irritable, languid, and drowsy. It is a disease which does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy to throw off the causes and tone up the digestive organs till they perform their duties willingly. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven just the required remedy in hundreds of cases.

"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for dyspepsia, from which I have suffered two years. I tried many other medicines, but none proved so satisfactory as Hood's Sarsaparilla." THOMAS COOK, Brush Electric Light Co., New York City.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

A Reporter Fired.

Last evening a reporter of the Bee, who also acts in the capacity of correspondent of the San Francisco Examiner, became rather fresh around the Governor's office, and came near getting a good sound thrashing. He called on the Governor to know what the latter was doing with the secret service fund, and when he was politely informed that it was none of his business, he waxed wrathy and wanted to clean out the entire Capitol. When Private Secretary Boruck talked of thrashing the fresh news-gatherer, the latter politely told Mr. Boruck that he respected age and for that reason he allowed Mr. Boruck to escape a drubbing. Things began to get rather blue, and the newspaper scribbler was invited to take a walk and not repeat his visit, with the injunction that if he did he would get hurt. The Governor was very indignant at what he considered an insult, and expressed himself very freely as to the newspaper that would employ such individuals in the capacity of reporters. Hereafter reporters will not have many favors shown them at the Governor's office, all will be treated coolly, because one young man got above his business and imagines that not even the Governor's secret service fund is beyond his inquiry. This is not the first offense of this young man at the Capitol, and he has certainly injured his ability to serve his employers, from the fact that he has cut short his avenues of news-gathering, besides injuring others who are in the reportorial business.

Police Court.

In the Police Court yesterday Louis Selo and G. Wehle were fined $3 75 each for fast driving within the city limits. Ah Soon forfeited his $5 deposit for not appearing to answer to the charge of misdemeanor. Ah Lee refused to give his true name to the Assessor and a fine of $7 50 was imposed. Ah Foy, booked on the same charge, was dismissed. Jose Pepino, arrested on complaint of Josephine Machabo charging him with battery, had his case continued until to-day. French Marie and French Marcelli were next arraigned on the charge of disturbing the peace. The former was acquitted and the latter fined $7 50. John Doe, charged with disturbing the peace, forfeited his $5 deposit Morgan Sweeny and Joseph Meyerhoffer, taken in for being on "a booze," were discharged, as they appeared to be working men. Andrew Mertley and Jeding Tolman, charged with gaming, were next called. The latter was discharged, the evidence not warranting a conviction. The former is a colored boy, and by a sleight of hand trick succeeded in relieving a stranger of a considerable sum of money. The cards which were used in the game were produced in evidence, and the Court was almost positive that they were so marked on the back that they were well known to the defendant. The Court found him guilty and ordered him to appear for sentence to-day.

A Collision at Pinole.

Yesterday morning about 10 o'clock a collision occurred at Pinole in which three men were injured and the engines and mail cars were badly damaged. The east-bound overland was awaiting on the main track the arrival of the west-bound local, which leaves here at 6 o'clock. For some reason the engine of the local did not slow up in time to be switched off, and ran into the overland. Quite a jar was caused, and Wells, Fargo's messenger, W. H. H. Willey, and Frank Atherton were quite severely injured, the latter probably fatally. Geo. Miller, mail agent, was also bruised. The overland was delayed over two hours, not arriving here until 1:30 P. M. Mr. Willey, the injured messenger, was brought to this city and conveyed to his home in one of Wells, Fargo's wagons. His back is badly strained, and it is thought he has received internal injuries.

There Are Two Sides to the Picture.

A gentleman residing at San Jose wrote Governor Waterman a letter asking him to reconsider his decision in the Goslaw case and commute the latter's sentence to imprisonment for life. He closed his appeal by saying his only interest in the matter was from a humanitarian standpoint. The Governor replied that the case was closed and could not again be reopened, and added: "I observe that your interest in the case of Goslaw is that of a humanitarian. In that I am fully in accord with you, only with this difference: Your humanity leads you to plead to me in the interest of one man, while my humanitarian principles are expressed in behalf of the good and law-abiding people of the whole Commonwealth, who must be protected in life, limb and property against the assaults of the criminal and vicious."

Open the Streets.—Now that the Twenty-fourth street railroad is an assured fact, thanks to the push and energy of Mr. Myers, it is suggested that he keep on and have the public streets connecting with Twenty-fourth street opened by the Board of Trustees, and thereby create more travel on his cars. The opening of U, V and W streets west from Twenty-fourth, towards the ridge, are the most important to him at the present time, S and T streets being already open. This done and the proposed electric light placed on the hill, will make public thoroughfares of what are now cow pastures east of Twenty-second street. This latter street, if graded, would tend to rapidly build up the most desirable residence property of the city, and would greatly enhance its value.

Soldier's Home Site.—At the meeting of the Board of Managers of the National Soldiers' Home, held at San Francisco Monday, a large number of sites were proposed and the merits of the several localities explained by local representatives. Among the localities making claims for the location were Haywards, Oakland, San Diego, National City, Yountville, Petaluma, Santa Rosa, Vallejo, Agua Caliente and Sacramento. Concerning the latter A. Abbott, in a brief speech, described the advantages here, and offered the Winters tract in whole or part at about $200 per acre.

All About a Little Corn.—A suit has been entered in Justice Davis' Court by F. H. L. Weber against W. H. Bagwill. Under a law passed by the last Legislature it is a misdemeanor for the mortgagor to dispose of any of the mortgaged property without the written consent of the mortgagee. Weber claims that Bagwill mortgaged to him last September a crop of corn, and that the defendant disposed of the corn without the authority of the plaintiff. Sheriff Drew went to the county to serve a subpena on Bagwill to insure his attendance in Court when wanted.

Notaries Public.—There is a great demand for Notarial commissions and the clerks in the Governor's office are kept busy answering communications relating thereto. Each county is limited in the number of its Notaries and the following have their entire quota: Alameda, Fresno, San Francisco, San Joaquin, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, Santa Clara, Tulare, San Diego, Los Angeles and San Bernardino.

Rewarded.—Chief Dillman received a reward on Monday for his valuable detective services in working up the case of Ed. Hines, who was murdered at Roseville. Captain Calendon, of Morse's Detective Agency, paid the reward to the Chief, who immediately sent half of it to Constable George Lamphrey, of Roseville.

DIMMIG DISCHARGED.

A Mere Affidavit Containing no Evidence Showing Guilt Insufficient.

The Supreme Court, sitting in bank, yesterday rendered the following decision in the ex parte Dimmig habeas corpus case, which was argued on Monday. Sections 811, 812 and 813 of the Penal Code are as follows:

Section 811. When an information is laid before a Magistrate of the commission of a public offense triable within the county, he must examine on oath the informant or prosecutor, and any witnesses he may produce, and take their deposition in writing, and cause them to be subscribed by the parties making them.

Section 812. The deposition must set forth the facts stated by the prosecutor and his witnesses, tending to establish the commission of the offense, and the guilt of the defendant.

Section 813. If the Magistrate is satisfied therefrom that the offense complained of has been committed, and that there is reasonable ground to believe that the defendant has committed it, he must issue a warrant of arrest.

Under these provisions a Magistrate has no jurisdiction to issue a warrant of arrest without some evidence tending to show the guilt of the party named in the warrant. The original information may be sufficient, though made only upon information and belief, if followed by the deposition of the complainant, or some other witness stating facts tending to show the guilt of the party charged. Of course, where there was some evidence upon which the Magistrate acted, we would not interfere. It may be also true that the original information might be treated as a deposition, and in such view, if it contained positive evidence of facts tending to show guilt, it might be sufficient as a basis for the issuance of a warrant. But a mere affidavit in the form of an information, containing no evidence and followed by no deposition stating any fact tending to show guilt, is insufficient to support a warrant. The liberty of a citizen cannot be violated upon the mere expression of an opinion under oath that he is guilty of a crime. (Swart vs. Kimball, 43 Mich., 443; Blodgett vs. Race, 18 Hun, 132; in re Balcom, 12 Neb., 316; ex parte Burford, 3 Cranch, 448; People vs. Smith, 1 Cal., 9; People vs. Heffron, 53 Mich., 529; ex parte Hayres, 18 Wendell, 612; Loden vs. Phelps, 13 Wend., 46; People vs. Hamilton, 66 Cal., 594). Such being the case here, the petitioner is discharged.

DIMMIG RE-ARRESTED.

The San Francisco Post of last evening says: "Chief Crowley received a dispatch this afternoon from J. D. Spencer, Clerk of the Supreme Court, which is now in session in Sacramento, announcing that an opinion had been filed by the Court ordering John A. Dimmig released from custody. Before the receipt of the dispatch Chief Crowley and Assistant D. A. Kirk, believing that the writ would be granted, sent for Mrs. Sarah Benhayon, and she swore out a new complaint against Dimmig. The second complaint directly charges Dimmig with the murder of Henry Benhayon on the 23d ult., and in an affidavit on the back the mother swears that the murder was accomplished by the administration of cyanide of potassium. When Judge Hornblower convened Court this afternoon, Prosecuting Attorney Coffey asked for the dismissal of the former charge of murder, in compliance with the decision of the Supreme Court. Dimmig was then led back to his quarters in the tanks, and the new warrant was served upon him."

Signal Service.

Sergeant Barwick, of the Signal Service station in this city, has received a circular from the Signal Office, War Department, Washington, which shows how beggarly the Government has acted with this most important service. It is hoped that Congress, at its next session, will restore the $310 per annum, and allow the deficiency asked. The circular is as follows:

"Memoranda of deficiency estimate as required for the service of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1888: For rent, hire of civilian employes, furniture, light, stationery, ice, stove and fixtures, repairs, rent of telephone, text-books, lumber, and other expenses of offices maintained as stations of observation outside of Washington, District of Columbia, being for the service of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1888, $5,000.

"Note—This amount is necessary to properly provide for the present stations of observation during the current fiscal year. Congress, in 1883, reduced the amount allowed for rent, stationery, light, ice, furniture, text books, and all expenses from an annual allowance of $310 per station of observation to $250 per year. This reduction has necessitated in every year the discharge of janitors and cleaners in the middle of the fiscal year, and the retusal of ice, stoves, stationery and furniture for the proper equipment and management of said stations. At present all janitors and cleaners are under orders for discharge on January 1, 1888. For four years past the dilapidated and badly-worn furniture of this service has steadily deteriorated in appearance and quality, since the reduced appropriations have not permitted its being replaced by new furniture. The offices of the country in general, as shown by the official inspection reports, are, in many cases, in an unfit and improper condition. In the last four years the repairs of old furniture and the purchase of new has averaged but one dollar per month for each station.

"There are now a number of offices that could be moved into Government buildings, and others could be moved by April 1, 1888, and thus save rent in future, but for lack of funds this is impossible, as the expense in each case would be about $250."

New Metropolitan Theater.

At the Metropolitan to-night the Sherman & Golding combination gives the first of its entertainments here. It is announced to consist of Sherman's illusions, which in an incomplete way and under circumstances forcing the operator into insufficient space, were shown here a fortnight ago; and Golding Bros.' mediumistic tricks and exhibitions, specialty character acts, songs, dances, etc. There will also be introduced here for the first time the prismatic fountain and Sherman's trick "The Vanishing Lady." One division of the entertainment will be devoted to tableaux and dissolving views—by Sherman's apparatus, and in which living figures are employed—of scenes in the life of Christ, from the trial before Pilate to the Resurrection. These tableaux are announced as something superior, and as in no degree offending religious sentiment, but on the contrary, to be living pictures of the character of some of the greatest art works. Much fine costumery is to be employed in mythological, biblical and sentimental tableaux, of which there are very many upon the programme. There are to be given also quartets and solos as accompaniments to some of the tableaux. Sherman says that having a clear stage and having all conditions perfect, the illusions will be greatly superior to those shown in connection with the plays of the Cinderella troupe. A large number of assistants have been engaged, to make the tableaux complete.

Carpets at Auction.—W. H. Sherburn will have a great auction sale of second-hand carpets, at the new Pavilion, Fifteenth and N streets, at 10 A. M. Friday, by order of W. C. Hendricks, Secretary of State, all of the second-hand carpet taken from the floor of the State Capitol building, consisting of fine velvet, body Brussels and tapestry carpets, some of which are in very good order—in all about 1,300 yards. Also, about 400 yards of cocoa matting of various widths. Sale positive and without reserve. Terms cash.

Why is it Thus?—The majority of the street lamps on M street from Front to Tenth street are on the north side of the street. The property owners on the south side of the street are not hoggish but would like to have a portion of the lamps placed on their side of the street so as to give better service.

About a week ago at Florin a man, who by no means was in a sober condition, jumped aboard the afternoon passenger train and threw away the lantern which is the danger signal on the last car. The Carlow baseball nine are regretting that the regulation season for ball and bat is so near over, as since their success last Sunday in turning the tables upon the H. M. & S. club they are confident that the season is too short on the last end for the acquisition of the baseballistic standing to which, by the nature of things, they are entitled. The victory in the present instance was celebrated with a banquet to the Carlow nine, at the French Restaurant, given by their manager, and who says he has ordered another set-out to follow the next game.

Subsequently the Record-Union ascertained the exact figures and published them to settle a dispute that followed St. John's statement. These figures have been denounced as untrue. The Record-Union's figures were from the books of the Internal Revenue office in this city, and were printed precisely as they there appear. Any who see proper to charge falsehood in the matter can fight it out with the Internal Revenue office.

What Am I to Do?

The symptoms of Biliousness are unhappily but too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A Bilious man is seldom a breakfast-eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids, but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and furred, it is rough at all events.

The digestive system is wholly out of order, and Diarrhea or Constipation may be a symptom, or the two may alternate. There are often Hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all this, if not effect a cure, try Green's August Flower. It costs but a trifle, and thousands attest its efficacy.

The citizens of El Paso presented him with a suit of clothes and a $100 gold medal.

DYSPEPSIA

Causes its victims to be miserable, hopeless, confused, and depressed in mind, very irritable, languid, and drowsy. It is a disease which does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy to throw off the causes and tone up the digestive organs till they perform their duties willingly. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven just the required remedy in hundreds of cases.

"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for dyspepsia, from which I have suffered two years. I tried many other medicines, but none proved so satisfactory as Hood's Sarsaparilla." Thomas Cook, Brush Electric Light Co., New York City.

Sick Headache

"For the past two years I have been afflicted with severe headaches and dyspepsia. I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and have found great relief. I cheerfully recommend it to all." Mrs. E. F. Annable, New Haven, Conn.

Mrs. Mary C. Smith, Cambridgeport, Mass., was a sufferer from dyspepsia and sick headache. She took Hood's Sarsaparilla and found it the best remedy she ever used.

LISTING LANDS.

The State Board of Trade Discusses an Important Matter.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 22d.—The State Board of Trade met at its headquarters, Second street, this morning. There was a large attendance of members, and there were also several visitors, among them General Chipman and Senator Baggs of Colusa. The first business considered was the resolution offered at the last meeting by W. W. Camron of Oakland, calling for a discussion of the rule of the Board which provides for the listing at headquarters of lands for sale from any and all parts of the State.

Mr. Camron explained why he desired to have the rule reconsidered and rescinded. There is an impression going abroad that this institution is going into the real estate business, and this impression he considered contrary to the real objects of the organization.

H. W. Byington of Sonora thought there should be no objection to the rule as it is, for it provides that all good land shall be indorsed by the local Boards.

W. H. Mills spoke, opposing the rescinding of the rule. He referred to the great trouble that had been encountered in settling this State in monopolization of land. In 1886, of the 100,000,000 acres of cultivated land in this State there were 10,000,000 acres of which the owners could be named. Over 5,000,000 acres were owned by less than one hundred men. The great object of this organization is to aid in every possible way the settlement of the State. There should be specific and not general information for the inquirer. People have been told to go to Butte county, and that that was a good place to settle. They were told the truth, but people who go to Butte county find themselves at sea, and do not know where to go. One idea of this organization is to furnish any one who is desirous with exact information of where land can be purchased and how much it will cost. It makes no difference who sends lists of lands, if it has been indorsed and approved by a reliable organization. There can be no objection to any circular under the sun being sent here to headquarters and circulated. If a Santa Rosa man gets up a magnificent circular about Santa Rosa and can get some one by it to go there to live, there can be no objection to having it distributed at headquarters. If the dealer thereby can make $10,000 it would be as well as if he lost $10,000, and Mr. Mills would be as well pleased. He considered the proposition to have real estate dealers on the Executive Committee as simply grotesque, for the committee consists of representative bodies and not of individuals.

Senator Boggs spoke in favor of the land-listing plan.

Mr. Byington expressed the opinion that the land-listing plan is one argument that influences the formation and continuance of outside Boards of Trade.

General Chipman, of Red Bluff, thought the land-listing scheme a good one.

Mr. Williams, of Salinas, speaking for Mr. Carr, favored the listing plan, saying that Monterey depended much upon the plan.

President Hatch said that the sooner all jealousies regarding selling lands are removed the better, so long as the land is sold and the buyer is satisfied. There can be no better way to dispose of lands than to have them listed here at headquarters.

Mr. Cadwalader, of Santa Clara county, objected to the listing plan.

Mr. Camron in closing the discussion admitted that he had been convinced of the advisability of the plan, and by permission of his second he withdrew the motion to rescind.

On motion of Mr. Morrissey the Chair was authorized to appoint a committee to draw up a series of by-laws regarding the listing of lands.

Mr. Mills favored this, saying that the Board must yet learn much relative to the best methods of procedure, for the organization is entirely new.

A committee was appointed to draft resolutions in respect to the memory of the late Frederick Field of San Jose.

THE RAILROAD CELEBRATION.

The Board reassembled in the afternoon with the expectancy of hearing an address from Senator Stanford, on the development of the State. Explanation was sent by the Senator that he would be unable to appear, as to-morrow he is going to start for Washington.

The question of celebrating the completion of the California and Oregon Railroad was then taken up. There were present, invited to discuss the matter, Mayor Pond, President Sanderson, of the Board of Trade, Captain Merry, of the Chamber of Commerce, N. W. Spaulding, of the Manufacturers' Association, and other citizens.

Mr. Mills introduced the subject and said that the celebration ought, by reason of the position of San Francisco, and its importance as the chief city of the State, to be held in this city.

General Chipman said it has been a standing reproach that California and Oregon were not before united. The importance of the completed road can not be overestimated. The celebration, whatever form it may take, should occur in San Francisco.

Senator Jones, of Butte county, said the railroad people should be shown that the people generally appreciate the completion of the road. The Butte county people favor a celebration of some sort, and Sacramento has already arranged for a local celebration.

Mr. Alsip, of Sacramento, told of all the Capital City had done toward arranging for the celebration, and closed his remarks by extending a cordial invitation to all San Franciscans to attend the Sacramento celebration.

Mr. Byington presented the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Executive Committee of the California State Board of Trade will co-operate heartily with similar committees that may be appointed by the Chamber of Commerce and San Francisco Board of Trade, the Manufacturers' Association and Produce Exchange, in bringing about and carrying to a successful issue the proper celebration of the great event of connecting the two Pacific states.

Resolved, That the Governor and State officers and the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco be invited to co-operate, and that a committee of five from this Executive Committee be appointed to consider the practicability of the celebration, to report at the next meeting, and that Sacramento be invited to co-operate.

Mayor Pond spoke, favoring the proposed celebration, which, he felt, was almost a national affair.

The resolution was adopted, after having added a clause providing that the celebration be under the auspices of the Executive Committee of the State Board.

On motion of Mr. Camron, Mayor Pond was included as a member of the Celebration Committee, and on Mr. Mills' motion the Sacramento representative, E. K. Alsip, was also added to the committee, Messrs. Chipman and Hatch were added subsequently.

The committee as appointed is as follows: Mayor Pond, Messrs. Byington, Mills, Camron, Jones, Morrissey, Alsip, Chipman and Hatch.

THE WORK OF THE BOARD.

Manager Brown being called upon for a report of the work of the Board, spoke briefly. There are now twenty-three applications. A gentleman has been employed to canvass the city and has met with fair success. Another canvasser must now be employed in Mr. Robinson's place, as he has given up the work owing to other business. It was estimated that a good canvasser could easily collect $400 or $500. If all dues were paid up, the organization would owe only about $150. There are many visitors, averaging fifteen Easterners a day. There were forty visitors yesterday, and of these nineteen were strangers in the State. Of the visitors from the East nearly all are people who have come to stay.

OROVILLE CITRUS FAIR.

The committee on the Oroville Citrus Fair reported as follows: That the excursion start from San Francisco at 7:30 A. M. on December 20, 1887, for Oroville, via Benicia and Sacramento, to arrive at Oroville at 7 P. M. Fare for round trip $6 50, tickets to be good for return trip for four days. The fair opens December 20th and continues five days.

SEEKING INFORMATION.

Mr. Mills had Secretary Davies read two letters, which he said were characteristic of the kind that came daily to the Land Office of the Central Pacific. One was from a widow in Kansas, who asked fifty or more questions concerning California farming. Mr. Mills explained that it was just this kind of information which the Board will be called upon to impart. Inquiries similar will be coming to the headquarters by thousands so soon as the Board is known in the East. "Exact information is the great need. There has been too much ink and type already wasted in glowing descriptions of climate and resources which are not general enough for safe guidance."

After some discussion the Board adjourned to meet next Tuesday at 11 A. M.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKET.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 22d.

FLOUR—We quote net cash prices for California: Best Family, $3 90@4 ₱ bbl; Bakers' extra, $3 80@4; Superfine, $3@3 25.

WHEAT—The outlook continues of promising character. There is a moderate enlargement of the export movement, consequent upon further improvement at foreign centers, and it looks as if business in the shipping line would materially increase in the near future. Prices are steady at $1 35@1 37½ ₱ ctl for good export grades.

BARLEY—There is a firm tone to the market, and no change in favor of buyers can be expected so long as the rains hold off. Feed of the better quality cannot be bought under 87½c, while some holders insist on a higher figure. Bark grades are offered at 85c ₱ ctl. Trade in Brewing is of dragging character, there being but moderate demand for local wants. Prices range from 95c to $1 02½ ₱ ctl. Some little inquiry is naturally expected soon for Chevalier, as a vessel was chartered to-day to load for the United Kingdom. This description is quotable at $1 20@1 25 for standard; fair to good bay, $1@1 17½; fair to good coast, 85@90c ₱ ctl.

OATS—The demand has not been so general during the past few days as for some time previous, owing to dealers having a fair amount of stock on hand. Only those buyers who are in immediate want are operating at the moment, and their purchases are not of sufficient magnitude to create any great stir in the market. Holders handle the situation well, so that values are not perceptibly disturbed. We quote: No. 1 Feed, $1 45@1 50; No. 2, $1 30@1 37½; Milling, $1 50@1 55; surprise, $1 60; Black, $1 2½@1 30 for common, and $1 55@1 45 ₱ ctl for good to choice.

CORN—There is very little doing in this article, while prices are easy and the situation generally shapes in favor of consumers. Quotable at $1 15@1 20 for Yellow and $1 22½ ₱ ctl for White.

CRACKED CORN—Quotable at $25@27 ₱ ton.

CORNMEAL—Millers quote Feed at $25@27 ₱ ton; fine kinds for the table, in large and small packages, 2½@2¾c ₱ lb.

OILCAKE MEAL—Quotable at $32 50 per ton for old process and $27 50 ₱ ton for new process at the mills.

SEEDS—Shipments of Brown and Yellow Mustard, amounting to 112,000 lbs, were made to France during the week by sailing vessel. We quote prices as follows: Mustard, Brown, $2 50@3; Yellow, $1 75@1 90 ₱ ctl; Canary, 3@3½c; Hemp, 3¼@3½c; Rape, 1½@2¼c; Timothy, 6@7c; Alfalfa, 7@7½c ₱ lb; Flax, $1 90@2 ₱ ctl.

HAY—For choice product there is quick sale at full prices We quote as follows: Choice Wheat, $17 50@18; No. 1 Wheat, $15 50@16; choice Wheat and Oat, $16@17 50; Wild Oat, $13 50@16; Barley, $10@14; Alfalfa, $10@11 ₱ ton.

STRAW—Good to choice is quotable at 40@60c ₱ bale.

HOPS—Beyond a shipment of 20,000 lbs to India on the China steamer on Saturday, there is nothing of interest to note. Quotable at 8@12c ₱ lb.

BRAN—Quotable at $16@17 ₱ ton.

RYE—Holders are asking $2 ₱ ctl for a No. 1 article.

BUCKWHEAT—Quotable at $1 20@1 25 ₱ ctl, according to quality.

GROUND BARLEY—Quotable at $20@21 ₱ ton.

POTATOES—The only thing of interest in the situation is the continued advance in the price of Sweets. We quote prices as follows: River Reds, 55@60c; Peachblows, 60@70c; Petalumas, 60@75c; Tomales, 60@75c; Jersey Blues, 50@80c; Burbank Seedlings, 60@85c; Early Rose, 40@45c; Peerless, 65@75c; Sweet, $1 60@1 70 ₱ ctl.

ONIONS—A good article readily brings the top figure. Quotable at 50@90c ₱ ctl.

DRIED PEAS—We quote: Green, $1 25@1 35 ₱ ctl.

BEANS—There has been active demand of late for Pea and small White, causing higher prices. An improved inquiry has also prevailed for Bayos, giving that description firmer tone. Limas are out of favor. Bayos, $1 55@1 75; Butter, $2 37½@2 50; Pink, $1 50@1 75; Red, $1 25@1 50; Lima, $2 25@2 65; Pea, $2 40@2 70; Small White, $2 40@2 70 ₱ ctl.

VEGETABLES—Of some descriptions the market is sparsely supplied, as the season is now far advanced. Egg Plant, 75@85c ₱ box; Green Peppers, 50@65c ₱ box; Green Peas, 7@8c ₱ lb; Tomatoes, 25@35c ₱ box; String Beans, 8@9c ₱ lb; Marrowfat Squash, $6@8 ₱ ton; Artichokes, 10@15c ₱ dozen; Carrots, 35@50c ₱ ctl; Turnips, 25@50c ₱ ctl; Beets, 75c@$1 ₱ sack; Parsnips, $1@1 50 ₱ ctl; Cauliflower, 30@60c ₱ dozen; Cabbage, 75c ₱ ctl; Garlic, 1½@2c ₱ lb; Celery, 20@30c ₱ dozen; Dry Peppers, 8@10c; Dry Okra, 15@20c ₱ lb.

FRUIT—There is quick demand for Apples of choice quality, and higher prices are obtained for an article of this character. Table Pears are also in request. Grapes are in lighter supply and will soon disappear altogether. We quote: Quinces, 40@60c ₱ box; Wine Grapes, $15@17 ₱ ton; Grapes, 75c@$1 ₱ box according to quality; Apples, 50c@$1 50 ₱ box; Pears, 50c@$1 50 ₱ box; Strawberries, $7@9 ₱ chest; Raspberries, $10; Panama Oranges, $2 50@3 ₱ 100; Sweet Mexican Oranges, $2 50@3 50 ₱ box; Mexican Limes, 5@7c ₱ box; California Limes, 60c@$1 ₱ box; Lemons, Sicily, 50@6 50; do California, $1 75@2 for common, and $2 50@4 ₱ box for choice; Bananas, $1 50@3 50 ₱ bunch; Pineapples, $3@5 ₱ dozen; Cape Cod Cranberries, $11@12 ₱ bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—Trade at the moment is of quiet character. Jobbers bought pretty liberally early in the season, and until their stocks are much reduced, it is not likely that movement will be either brisk or great in magnitude. We quote as follows: Sun-dried Apples, 5@5½c ₱ lb for sliced and 4c for quartered; Alden 10c; Apricots, 11@12c for sun-dried bleached; do, sun-dried, 9@10c; Blackberries, 11@14c; Figs, 5@6c for pressed; 3@4c for unpressed; Smyrna Figs, 12½@14c for layers, and 9@10c for kegs; Nectarines, 8@10c; Peaches, 17@20c for peeled, and 8@10c for unpeeled; Pears, 3@4c for whole and 5@6c for sliced; machine-dried, 9@10c; Plums, 9@10½c for pitted and 2c for unpitted; German Prunes, 8@9c; French Prunes, 8@10c ₱ lb; Raisins, London Layers, $1 75@2 ₱ box, with 20@25c advance for fractions; Common, $1 25@1 50 ₱ box.

HONEY—Movement is slow, owing to some extent to the rather high figures ruling. We quote prices as follows: Comb, white, 12@14c; extra white, 15@16c; dark, 8@10c; Extracted—Clear white, 6½@8c; amber, 5½@6c; candied, 5½@5¾c ₱ lb.

BUTTER—Light receipts during the past few days have caused a much stronger feeling in values. Offerings of strictly fancy products have been notably small. The scarcity of feed in many localities is assigned as one cause why so little Butter of faultless character is received. Many cows are just coming in fresh, and this also operates against producing strictly fine Butter. Stocks of pickled and firkin are being rapidly lowered, and yet further advanced prices are probable in the near future. We quote jobbing lots as follows: Fancy, 45@47½c; good to choice, 42½@44c; fair, 32½@37½c; mixed lots, 17@20c; firkin, 26@27½c for fancy, 21@24c for good, and 15@18c ₱ lb for poor to fair; pickled roll, 30@32½c ₱ lb. Eastern, 17@18c ₱ lb for ordinary to fairly good quality.

CHEESE—Arrivals are limited, and there is but little choice stock on the market. Prices steady. We quote as follows: Choice to fancy, 14@15c; fair to good, 10½@13c; Eastern, 14@15c ₱ lb.

EGGS—The market still shows downward tendency. Ranch, 42½c; good to choice store, 37½@40c; Eastern, cold storage, 21@22½c; fresh, 25@27½c; Salt Lake express, 30@32½c ₱ dozen.

POULTRY—There was active demand for Turkeys this morning, and consignments went off quickly. Live Turkeys—Gobblers, 20@21c; Hens 19@20c; dressed Turkeys, 21@24c ₱ lb; Roosters, $5@5 50 for old, and $5@7 for young; Hens, $5 50@6 for ordinary stock, and $6 50@7 50 for choice; Broilers, $4@5; Ducks, $5@8; Geese, $1 75@2 ₱ pair; Pigeons, $1 50@2 ₱ dozen.

GAME—Continues to find ready custom at good prices. Quail, $1 25@1 50 ₱ dozen; Canvasbacks, $5@6; Mallards, $3 50@4 ₱ dozen; Sprig, $1 50@1 75; Teal, $1 25@1 50; Widgeon, $1@1 25 ₱ dozen; snipe, English, $1 75@2; do, common, 40@60c; small Ducks, 75c@$1; Gray Geese, $2@2 50 ₱ dozen; White Geese, 75c@$1 ₱ dozen; Brant, $1 25@1 50 ₱ dozen; Honkers, $3 50@4 50; Rabbits, $1@1 25; Hare, $1 25@1 50 ₱ dozen.

PROVISIONS—The market has easy tone, though no positive decline has occurred in values Eastern Hams, 14@14½c; California, 10@11c for salt; refrigerator-cured, 13@13½c; Eastern Breakfast Bacon, 12@12½c; California Bacon, 10@10½c for heavy and medium, 11@11½c for light medium and 12@12½c for light, 13@13½c extra light; Clear Sides, 10½@11c; Pork, $9 50@10 ₱ bbl for extra prime, $10@11 for prime mess, $15 50@16 for mess, $16 50@17 for clear, $17 50@18 for extra clear; Figs' feet, $1 50@12; Mess Beef, $9 50@10 for bbls, $4 75@5 for hf bbls; Extra Mess Beef, $10 50@11 for bbls, $5 50@5 75 for hf bbls; Family Beef, $15@16 ₱ bbl; California Smoked Beef, 12@12½c ₱ lb; Eastern Lard, 8¾@9c for tierces and 9½@10c ₱ lb for pails; California do, tierces, 8½c; hf bbls, 9c; 10-lb tins, 7¾c; 5-lb tins, 8c; pails, 9c for 10-lb, 9¼c for 5-lb, and 9½c ₱ lb for 3-lb pails.

WOOL—Trade is quite dull, and confined to wants for scouring purposes. Scourers, however, are not urgent buyers, and it is slow work to get rid of stock even in a small way. We quote spring clip:
